

ANARCHISTS AT WAKEFIELD

BAILEY MURDER NO LONGER A MYSTERY

Dist. Atty. Smith Will Appear Before Grand Jury Tomorrow and Ask That Indictment be Returned Against Person He Suspects of Crime

FREEMONT, N. Y., July 8.—That the murder of Mrs. Louise Bailey on Tuesday of last week in the office of Dr. Edwin Carman is no longer a mystery, is the belief of Louis J. Smith, district attorney of Nassau county. Tomorrow Mr. Smith will appear before the grand jury and, according to a statement made by him he will ask that an indictment be returned against the person he suspects of having killed Mrs. Bailey. The coroner's inquest will be resumed today before Coroner Norton and promises to be an interesting session. District Attorney Smith and Sheriff Pettit have eliminated Norton as a co-worker in the case, it is said, but despite the split the prosecutor will be present to ask questions of the witnesses and the sheriff will be there ready to start out on any new clues that are developed.

NEW HAVEN ROAD

Atty. Gen. McReynolds Hopeful of a Settlement of Suit

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Although the department of justice is prepared to file its suit for the dissolution of the New Haven system, Attorney General McReynolds is still hopeful of a settlement without a prolonged fight in the courts. As was announced some time ago President Wilson and the attorney general had agreed that the suit should be filed not later than July 15 unless the Massachusetts legislature and the executive committee of the railroad agreed on certain legislation necessary for disposing of some of the stocks which the government contends are being held in violation of law. Administration officials plan their faith of a settlement without a long fight on the fact that a new legislative session comes into existence on Jan. 1. Under ordinary procedure a suit filed this month would not proceed very far by that time and could be halted whenever the necessary legislation for a peaceful settlement was enacted.

DEATHS

McLAUGHLIN—Mrs. Mary McLaughlin, an old and highly respected member of the Sacred Heart church, died last night at St. John's hospital. She leaves three daughters, Mrs. A. A. Cunningham and Mrs. C. Cunningham, 17 Hoyt street, by Undertakers James J. O'Donnell & Sons.

HOWES—George F. Howes died yesterday in Tyngsboro, at his camp in Princeton street, aged 60 years, 10 months and 29 days. He leaves besides his wife, Adela S. Howes, three daughters, Mrs. Edwin L. Lapoint, Mrs. Geo. A. Smith and Mrs. Charles A. Dyer.

BOMB WRECKS HOME OF CANE FACTORY BOSS

Dastardly Attempt to Destroy Home and Family of Richard S. Stout of Heywood Brothers & Wakefield Co.'s Factory Recently Closed by Strike—Infernal Machine Exploded in Kitchen—Police Find no Clue to Perpetrators

Anarchy lifts its head in Massachusetts as appears in the attempt early this morning to wreck the home of Richard S. Stout, superintendent of the cane department at the factory of Heywood Brothers & Wakefield Co., at Wakefield. The outrage shows that the anarchistic element takes advantage of labor strikes to carry on its nefarious business for the subversion of law and organized society. The act calls for the greatest activity of the state police and rigorous measures to drive out the anarchists in whatever guise they may appear.

WAKEFIELD, July 8.—Investigation of the partial wrecking of the home of Richard S. Stout on Bonnet street by a bomb thrown through the kitchen window early today has been started by the police but with few clues to work on.

The police believe that the explanation of the attack on Mr. Stout was to be found in the fact that he partially reopened the cane-splitting department of the Heywood Bros. & Wakefield Co., which had been closed because of a strike. Mr. Stout is foreman of the cane splitting department and the arrival of a shipment of material about a week ago necessitated employment of about 20 men by him.

The explosion occurred shortly before 2 a. m. William J. Stout, a son, who was aroused by the sound of breaking glass, awakened his father and another son, George Stout. While the three listened for further sounds of the supposed burglar there was a sudden explosion which shook the house, sent pictures and bric-a-brac smashing to the floor and blew out many of the windows and doors on the ground floor.

Mr. Stout and his sons and a housekeeper, Mrs. Ellen Gage, the only people in the house, escaped injury.

Neighbors awakened by the explosion hurried to the house but no sign of the bombthrower was found and the police who started their investigation at daylight were unable to find any traces to indicate who was responsible.

The police are satisfied that the explosion was due to a charge of dynamite, for the force of the explosion was downward, several of the big ceiling beams beneath the kitchen being splintered and the water and gas pipes in the cellar broken. In the kitchen the windows were carried away, sashes and all while in other parts of the house only the glass was shattered.

Very door on the lower floor of the house was torn from its hinges. Mr. Stout estimates the damage at $1000.

In the residence of Frank B. Lucas, adjoining the Stout home, pictures were shaken from the walls and other damage was done. The Wakefield Home for Aged Women is just across the street and for a time there was considerable excitement among the dozen inmates.

TRY TO WRECK ROBERT BURNS' BIRTHPLACE

Militants Place Large Bombs Against Doors and Windows of Cottage Where Great Poet Was Born—Mrs. Pankhurst Again Arrested

GLASGOW, Scotland, July 8.—An attempt to destroy the cottage at Ayr where Robert Burns was born, July 25, 1759, was made just before daylight today by two members of a militant suffragette arson squad.

The two women were surprised by a night watchman as they were in the act of placing large bombs against the doors of the great poet's birthplace, which is venerated as a shrine by the Scottish nation. The man captured one of the militants but the other escaped.

MRS. PANKHURST AGAIN AT HOLLOWAY JAIL—VIOLENT SCENE IN COURT

LONDON, July 8.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst today resumed command of the forces of the Women's Social and Political Union at their London headquarters, but was not permitted to remain there long. She reoccupied the offices at noon without hindrance by the police, although they knew of her intention and had detectives on duty in the vicinity. However, when she emerged from her headquarters to go to lunch the police pounced on her and took her to Holloway jail.

Simultaneously with the reappearance of Mrs. Pankhurst a violent scene was created in the central criminal court, where Mrs. Alice Hall, Miss Grace Foe, Miss Julia Jameson and Miss Ellen Armes were brought up for trial for conspiracy. The charge against them was that of "conspiring with others maliciously to commit damage and injury and to spoil certain real and personal property of our lord the king."

The prisoners were arrested during a raid on a West End flat on May 21 and in their rooms were found a few shrapnel grenades of ingenious manufacture, coils of fuses and plans of houses with instructions how to reach them and as to the usual movements of the police in the vicinity.

EXPECTS EXONERATION

Mrs. Angle Believes She Will Be Absolved in the Ballou Case in Stamford, Conn.

STAMFORD, Conn., July 8.—That Mrs. Helen M. Angle expects Coroner Phelan to exonerate her when he resumes his inquest in the death of William H. Ballou was apparent yesterday in a remark she made to the police matron, Mrs. Margaret Kibbe.

"I am stronger and contented now," she said, "and I hope the coroner will finish his inquest soon. I want my exoneration to be complete and I expect to be able to leave here when he finishes the inquest."

BLOCK ISLAND, R. I., July 8.—The drowning of three men in Old Harbor last night was reported today. The victims were James Collins, believed to be a resident of Fall River, Joseph Bean and Propable Ateam, whose homes are not known.

The men were employed on board the dredge Tiger, owned by C. M. Cole of Fall River. Collins was night watchman and Ateam cook. They were returning to the barge from a shore visit when their boat was capsized within 100 yards of the beach. The bodies were recovered today.

WALSH TO SEE WILSON

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Governor Walsh of Massachusetts will call on President Wilson today to urge him to use his influence to get congress to appropriate $500,000 for the relief of the Salem sufferers.

He will be accompanied to the White House by Rep. Gardner.

IN FAVOR OF ANNEXATION

Reason Why Part of Dracut
Should be Annexed—Residents
Get Little for High Taxes Paid

The editorial in The Sun Monday last, concerning what they were right in relation to annexation has not some of the taxpayers' feelings. A prominent citizen of Dracut, to the writer yesterday said that the safety state in your paper that unless the so much talked about electric lights on the state boulevard between the city line and Belle Grove are installed within a short time, a movement of some kind will be started among the residents of that district and inasmuch as annexation has been the topic of discussion on several occasions in that locality it is very probable that the move will go to work and push the matter ahead.

As a matter of fact an annexation movement was started in Kenwood, Brookside and Belle Grove a few years ago when the pay-as-you-go policy was adopted by the citizens of the town. The residents along the river road felt at that time that the rate was a burden, and upon them which had no right to

PEOPLE WITH THIN BLOOD

Some people have a tendency to become thin-blooded just as others have an inherited tendency to rheumatism, or to nervous disorders. The condition in which the blood becomes so thin that the whole body suffers comes on so gradually and stealthily that anyone with a natural disposition in that direction should watch the symptoms carefully. Bloodlessness, or anemia, as the medical term is, can be corrected much more easily in the earlier stages than later. It begins with a tired feeling that rest does not overcome, the complexion becomes pale and breathlessness on slight exertion, such as going up stairs, is noticed.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a home remedy that has been most successful in the treatment of diseases caused by thin blood. With pure air and wholesome food these blood-making pills afford the correct treatment when the symptoms described are noticed. A former sufferer from anemia says: "I was emaciated and did not have a particle of color. I had severe headaches, had no ambition and could just drop around. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills quickly restored appetite, flesh and health. A full statement of this case with directions regarding diet will be found in the booklet, 'Building Up the Blood,' sent free by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y."

some faculty will occur on the road. Within the past few weeks there have been two automobile accidents on the road and it is almost a miracle that no lives were lost, and both accidents are due to the fact that the road is not lighted. Automobiles by the hundred go up and down the road and some at a very high rate of speed and pedestrians who wish to board electric cars are constantly in danger.

"I, for one, favor annexing Kenwood, Brookside and Belle Grove to Lowell and I know of many who favor the project. By Lowell taking this part of the town, sewerage would be put in, the water mains would be extended and the district would be thoroughly protected in case of fire, and it is safe to assume that the state road would be properly lighted."

"Last year's tax rate in Dracut was $27.60 per thousand and this year it may drop to $22, and some have hopes that within a few years it will drop to a normal rate that is about $18 or $20 per thousand, but even at that rate we would be paying as high as the citizens of Lowell and more too and we would not receive half the benefits we would get if we were annexed to Lowell. The district is composed of city people who are living as city folks but who are not receiving the many advantages enjoyed by residents of Lowell. There is practically no farming done in that part of Dracut and were the district annexed to Lowell, it is possible that manufacturing concerns would locate themselves along the shores of the Merrimack river, where there is plenty of good land available and the beneficiaries would be the residents of the locality."

The speaker reviewed the doings of the town during the past ten or twelve years and admitted that the town is practically out of debt. He said the schools are nearly all paid for and there is little outstanding debt. He said during the past ten or twelve years the town has paid off an outstanding debt of $17,000 and has taken care of its running expenses, but the taxpayers were burdened and there is really nothing to show outside of a few school buildings. Some say that the tax rate will drop to a normal figure and they give as a reason for the high jump that the road work which has been neglected for the past twenty years, has been done during the past 2 or 3 years. Now if during the past twenty years with a tax rate of $18 we were not able to keep up the good condition of our roads, how are we going to do it in the future? I feel that the tax rate may drop for a year or so, but it is bound to rise again and, therefore, the best thing we can do is to annex at least the Belle Grove district to Lowell. The Navy Yard with its mills would also be greatly benefited by annexation.

WARMER WEATHER DUE

FIRST WEEK OF JULY HAS HAD MORE RAINFALL THAN ENTIRE MONTH OF JUNE

BOSTON, July 8.—Warmer weather, with sunny spells interspersed with showers, is the best guess of the weather man for the next few days. This means that yesterday, though damp and chilly, far below the average for the time of year, was nevertheless not a record for cold by six degrees, and marked the turning point of the dismal spell that has characterized the past week.

Nothing like a hot wave, however, is in sight. Nor are there any storms on the horizon.

The low record yesterday was 51 degrees, that being the figure about which the thermometer hovered much of the early morning. This is 10 degrees lower than the coldest a year ago, and compares with a low of 51 in 1898, and a record low of 51 in 1885.

Yesterday's high record was 59, at 2 p. m., while a year ago the thermometer shot up to 83 in the shade.

The first week in July has had a larger rainfall than the entire month of June, bringing contentment to exasperated truck farmers and horticulturists, and new life to scorched lawns. The rain fell for July 1, was .07 of an inch, for July 2, 1.01, for the 24 hours ending yesterday morning, 1.04, totaling 2.12 for the week, at compared with 1.40 for the whole month of June.

In spite of the cold weather of the past week, the year is still far ahead as regards heat excess. Up to July 1, there was an excess of 168 over normal, and the past week lagged only 50 degrees behind normal, so that there is still an excess of 118 to store away against more wintry weather.

APHASIA VICTIM

HAVERHILL, July 7.—Miss Florence Stanley, a sister of Maria Stanley, was surprised today by the news of the supposed identification of the aphasia victim at the Boston hospital. Dr. H. W. LEGISLATURE ADJOURNS

Many Important Measures Were Crowded Into Last Hours—Mock Session at Close

BOSTON, July 8.—Gov. Walsh pro-rogued the great and general court shortly before midnight.

Both branches had been in session since 10.30 in the morning and for all of the merrymaking which enlivened the closing hours a tired set of men streamed out of the building.

It was a day of fast and furious legislation. At the opening both house and senate had weighty extenders and the burdens were further increased. Gov. Walsh sent two last hour messages, one calling for legislation to allow the state to reassess upon the corporations interested the cost of the public service commission which is now borne by the state, and another to allow the port directors authority to prepare a site for the city of Boston in the Port Point channel for the high pressure fire station.

The public service compensation act was thrown out the window with little ceremony. The Boston act was rushed through in an hour and signed by the governor.

A state tax of $750,000 was declared for the year 1914 an increase of three-quarters of a million over the rate of last year. Gov. Walsh felt a tax of eight and one-half millions could be fixed but he accepted the word from the auditing department and agreed to the larger figure.

Important Bills Passed

At 5 o'clock prorogation was the goal which the officials first aimed at. When that hour was reached the exercises were as far away as ever. For nearly four hours the men sat waiting and hoping for the end.

The day was marked by attempts to kill three important pieces of legislation—the metropolitan fire hazard bill, which was only pulled out of the water by ex-Mayor Fitzgerald at the last moment, and the bills for the reorganization of the state boards of insanity and health. In the end the three measures were saved and sent along.

For all of the time taken, the house was not able to clear its score. The barbers' licensing bill was reported lost at the last moment. There had been a committee on conference on the measure, which had disagreed, but the disagreement report could not be found. The legality even of prorogation was considered in doubt. The speaker and Clerk Kimball finally decided to prorogue without it. Mr. Abbott of Haverhill, a member of the conference committee, was on hand, but could not help.

New Board of Insanity

The last hour attempt of Senator Doyle of New Bedford to stop the governor's bill for the reorganization of the state board of insanity ended in a fizzle. The motion of the senator for reconsideration was defeated, 6 to 12. Inasmuch as the measure had been enacted in the house, it was at once sent to the governor, who signed it.

The enactment of the bill for the reorganization of the state board of health, also favored by the governor, was not so easily accomplished. Early last week the house, by a margin of four to one, put through a reorganization bill providing for a paid health commissioner to be the executive officer of the state. The senate ways and means made a number of important changes in the bill. It left the reorganization machinery as provided in the house measure, but eliminated three sections conferring special powers on the new health commissioner and his medical council.

Senator Bateley succeeded in adding an amendment to the new measure providing the district health officers shall be members of an incorporated medical school. Senator Cox of Malden secured an amendment to provide for the protection of present employees.

Dr. Bigelow of Framingham defended it, and told the members that save for the elimination of certain sections regarding powers, the bill was as first framed. He said the governor approved it.

Mr. White of Newton warned the republicans of the danger of an 11th hour attempt to kill the measure, and it was finally enacted as amended by the senate and transmitted to the governor.

It provides for a health commissioner to be the chief executive officer to serve for five years and have a salary of $3000 a year. He is to be assisted by an advisory council of six.

Ends Party Enrollment

The bill for the abolition of party enrollment was put through, and contrary to the plans of some of the democratic as well as republican leaders. When it was called in the senate the question was on the substitution for the house bill of a new enrollment formulated by the ways and means committee. The new bill did away with party enrollment as now understood, but provided for a return to the old system of party caucuses to be held different nights.

In the house the bill was enacted, 137 to 58, on a roll call.

The metropolitan fire hazard bill was saved at the last moment. A special committee of the chamber of commerce, ex-Mayor Fitzgerald and two conference committees were required, but the work was successful.

The trouble came when in the senate an amendment offered by Senator Fisher, was adopted making the acceptance of the act optional with the various cities and towns in the metropolitan district. The vote was 19 to 17.

Senator Dean had this acceptance provision modified slightly, but the friends of the bill appreciated that with Lynn and other cities fighting the bill with this amendment was as good as dead.

All through the afternoon session senators in favor of the original bill sought to kill the amendment, but without success. When the measure reached the house it was still carrying the rider. This the house refused to accept, and a conference committee was appointed. The senate would not recede. Then a second conference committee was appointed. Ex-Mayor Fitzgerald and the chamber of commerce people having arrived, the senate agreed to recede and the bill was sent along.

Two Recess Committees

The legislature provided for two recess committees. One is to study city charters to report a standard form. The other is to study legislative procedure with the idea of hastening business.

The latter committee project was given a start by reason of an order introduced by Senator Gordon to limit the senators to 15 bills in a year, and the representatives to five. The senate adopted it, but it was killed in the house. Directly following, both branches agreed to the special recess organization.

An order to allow extra mileage money for the western members of the legislature was killed in the senate by refusal to suspend the rules for its admission.

A new bill to amend the narcotic laws was put through both branches in a hurry. It was made necessary by the discovery that under the law signed last week the sale of opium was legalized till Jan. 1, 1915, when the general measure takes effect. The new bill provides the original measure shall take effect at once.

Mock Session

The Massachusetts legislature made merry in mock session yesterday's afternoon and evening, sandwiching in both professional and amateur vaudeville "stunts" and impromptu speeches by prominent citizens who were literally dragged upon the floor of the house.

The opportunity for this "musical and literary" program arose because there wasn't enough serious business to require a continuous regular session. Whenever there was a recess the "talent" were thrust forward and invited to entertain the members.

Before the lighter members were offered there came the formal presentation of a vote of thanks to Speaker Gratton D. Channing. Resolutions expressive of the gratitude of the members for his faithful and impartial administration of his duties were adopted by a rising vote. Mr. Tague of Charlestown, in behalf of the members, presented the speaker a set of books. George P. Webster of Bedford endorsed Mr. Tague's sentiments.

"Chain Gang" Gets to Work

Mr. Cox then paid a tribute to the efficiency and faithfulness of the clerical force and in behalf of the members presented Clerk James Kimball. Assistant Clerk Frank E. Bridgman and their assistants substantial tokens with which to remember the house of 1914.

Serget-at-Arms Thomas F. Pedrick and his assistants were also remembered. Mr. Haines of Medford making the presentation speech.

Chaplain Daniel W. Waldron was invited to address the house and was given a set of books, amid great applause. Mr. Briggs of Lexington made the presentation speech.

Mr. Beck of Chelsea was made "speaker" of the mock session. He immediately appointed a "chain gang" with Mr. Robinson of Ward 5 as "sergeant." They wore policemen's helmets and did much "strong arm" work in gathering people to address the house.

See Imitations of Themselves

George E. Curran of Boston, the one member of the house identified with the theatrical profession, arranged a program made up of vaudeville performers now appearing at local theatres.

"Speaker" Beck made the "chain gang" round up all on whom they could lay hands. There was a tumult of cheers when Ex-Mayor John F. Fitzgerald was put up on the speaker's dais and comported to star "Sweet Adeline." Councilor Alexander McGregor was forced to tell a story.

Others "kiddapped" were John F. Meaney, private secretary to Governor Walsh, Calvin Coolidge of the senate, John A. Sullivan, Ex-Representative "Bill" Newton and Representative Bagshaw of Fall River.

CINCINNATI, July 8.—Following a lengthy conference with President Herrmann yesterday, Manager Herzog of the Reds announced that he had completed a deal that will bring four or five new players to Cincinnati and the team, next Saturday or Sunday, will take the field with an almost complete change in lineup.

While Herzog would not mention the names of the players involved in the deal on either side, it is known that two Giants at least, and perhaps one or two more, will be perhaps channeled around in Red uniforms, while a like number of Red players will be drawing salary from the New York club.

In baseball circles yesterday it was stated that Dick Hoblittell, first baseman, Johnnie Bates, outfielder of the Reds, and Armando Marsans, crack outfielder, the latter whom the Reds acquired from playing with the St. Louis Cardinals, will be traded for Shoggrass

NEW LIGHTWEIGHT CHAMP

Freddie Welsh of Wales Wins the Title From Willie Ritchie of America in Fast Bout

LONDON, July 5.—Freddie Welsh, last night outboxed Willie Ritchie, the American champion, and on the referee's decision won the lightweight championship of the world.

The fight took place at Olympia, and the 8000 spectators witnessed a fast and clever bout, in which rapid footwork and a good deal of lightning were pronounced. The British victory was cheered to the echo, although there was some dissatisfaction among the American spectators at the decision because neither man was heated at the finish. Although Welsh scored the greater number of blows, those of the American appeared to be the more telling.

It was a fine exhibition of boxing throughout. Neither man went to the floor and the struggle during the last six rounds was of a hurricane character. Welsh was the quicker man and lapped Ritchie repeatedly on the face, finally drawing blood. The American tried continually for a knockout, but either he was short or Welsh got inside or under the swing.

The Fight By Rounds

Round 1—Welsh got in a few blows in the clinch. Ritchie responded with a straight to the jaw. In the following, with Welsh getting the better of the argument. When they squared off, however, Ritchie delivered several body blows.

Round 4—Welsh fought for the body. Then, in a clinch, he gave Ritchie two left hooks on the jaw, followed by a right swing on the same spot. Welsh appeared the fresher of the two, smiling when the gong sounded.

Round 5—Ritchie got one to the face, Welsh replying with a left to the jaw. Ritchie then sent a straight to the jaw and also a heavy body blow. Ritchie forced the fighting, but was repeatedly cautioned for holding.

Round 6—Ritchie's left eye seemed to be slightly swollen and Welsh's left eye was also damaged. Ritchie played for the body. Welsh dodged a right-hand swing aimed at the bad eye. Welsh's footwork was much the quicker, but his blows seemed to have less steam than the American's.

Round 7—Half of the round had passed before Ritchie began forcing the fighting. He landed two smart blows on the face. Welsh responded, but the American covered up well and the round ended in his favor.

Round 8—Welsh appeared to be beginning to husband his strength in the clinches. He then put on more steam and gave the American one good body blow, and seemed fresher at the end than at the beginning of the round.

Round 9—Welsh forced the fighting, opening with a left to the face, an operation which he quickly repeated. Ritchie's blows continually falling short, while Welsh, settling a furious pace, put in several blows to the body and had the better of the fighting. This was Welsh's round.

Round 10—Welsh forced the fighting, scoring repeatedly on Ritchie's jaw. He then eluded one of Ritchie's famous right-arm blows. Welsh had the better of the fight thus far.

Round 12—Welsh scored a left hook on Ritchie's neck. Ritchie repeatedly let out hard left-handers, but Welsh was always too quick for them. The Welshman scored three or four punches in this round, but they seemed to make no impression on the American, who showed great stamina.

Round 13—Ritchie came out up and landed two straight rights on the face and a sharp uppercut. The American forced the fighting all through the round, Welsh slowing up considerably. It was a good round, all in favor of Ritchie.

Round 14—The American got in a short hot left on the body. Later he repeated with the right. The fighting was fast and fierce to the end of the round. This, like the preceding, was Ritchie's round.

Round 15—The first half of the round was a hugging match, with both men working hard in the clinches. Welsh trying to wear his opponent down. There were a couple of rallies, but no damage was done. The round was even.

Round 16—There was more insight, each receiving a good lay on the face. The Welshman checked a terrific right-hander. The fight continued a fine exhibition of boxing by Welsh, who played entirely for the face, while the American tried for a body knockout.

Round 17—The men again went into a clinch at the sound of the gong. Upon breaking, Ritchie landed a hard left-hand swing on the face and followed it with a series of sharp body blows. Ritchie pushed the fighting and appeared stronger. Welsh covered well and was too quick for his opponent.

Round 18—Ritchie bled from the lip. This was a very fast round, in which strength against quickness continued to be displayed, but the Welshman got a little the better of it.

Round 19—Welsh was getting all the applause, being the favorite with the crowd, but Ritchie was doing the fighting. Welsh landed a right on the face and got one in return. There was a smart rally, in which the honors were even.

Round 20—They started mixing it hard with both hands on the body. Welsh dodged a fierce left uppercut and gave the American a sharp left on the cheek. The fight ended with the swiftest kind of work. The Welshman pressing the American around the ring in the last few seconds. Welsh was carried out of the arena amid great cheering, after being declared the winner of the contest on points.

NO NEED OF PRECEDENT

WASHINGTON STAR HOPES CONGRESS WILL YET GRANT THE $200,000 ASKED FOR BY SALEM

WASHINGTON, July 8.—The Washington Star last night in a pointed editorial censures the appropriation committee of the house for its failure to act favorably on Congressman Cordine's resolution, and calls on congress to reconsider the decision. It says:

"The refusal of the house appropriations committee to recommend the passage of an emergency bill putting $200,000 at the disposal of the governor of Massachusetts for the relief of the people of the stricken Salem is a sad surprise, in view of the president's urgent appeal for such action.

"It is stated that members of the committee held that the request was without precedent and therefore it should not be granted. By this time congress has had abundant reason to recognize that the president makes his own precedents. But whether unusual or otherwise, this appropriation should have been granted without hesitation. That there is pressing need of help at Salem is attested by the governor's statement to the president and by the latter's endorsement.

"The federal funds can be used to no better advantage than to succor stricken humanity. It is not too late to reconsider the decision.

STARS OF TWO LEAGUE LEADERS WHO ARE OFF THEIR GAMES

Both Mack and McGraw have suffered this season from the inability of their reliable pitchers to come across with their real form. Bender, the Athletics' star Indian, has not been in anywhere near his real condition so far and has pitched but one or two good games this year. In the Giants' camp Demaree, who was counted on for at least twenty-five victories, has disappointed McGraw nearly every start.

THE IRISH VOLUNTEERS

Provisional Committee Opposes Redmond's Leadership But Must Retire

The Irish volunteer movement grows apace. There is now real danger of civil war as the Ulster men cannot safely carry on any swaggering without risk of meeting their opponents in sufficient numbers to satisfy Mr. Carson, who had been spoiling for a fight until the Irish nationalists took steps to accommodate him. The Ulster volunteers are divided as to the right policy to be pursued, some claiming that a provisional government should be elected at once, while the more moderate hold that resistance will be there enough when the home rule bill takes effect. In the nationalist volunteers there is a small faction opposed to giving Mr. Redmond and the parliamentary party control of the volunteers. Mr. Redmond, however, has given notice that he will call upon the counties to elect representatives to govern the volunteers. The provisional committee wants the counties to send delegates to the central body so that it would still be able to hold the balance of power. The men of the provisional committee are largely unknown and cannot therefore command public confidence in Ireland. They are men who have been opposed to Mr. Redmond for years and now they try to get control of an organization that has spontaneously arisen to assist in supporting small faction opposed to giving Mr. Redmond's policy. GUNBOAT SMITH CONFIDENT OF VICTORY OVER CARPENTIER IN BIG BOUT

GUNBOAT SMITH

Gunboat Smith, the big American "white hope," is confident that he can beat Georges Carpentier, the French champion, when they meet in Paris on July 16. Smith has challenged Johnson to a fight in August, and if he wins decisively over the foreigner should be given a chance at the black.

the volunteers are supporters of Mr. Redmond. They are not confined to any one creed or any party.

The chief military commanders are Col. Maurice Moore, who commanded the Connaught Rangers in the Boer war, and Capt. White, a son of the Gen. White who attended Lady's Mount. Recent accessions are Sir Henry Grafton Bellow, a grandson of the great Henry Grafton, who had experience in the Fifth Dragoon Guards, and Capt. Cunningham, brother of the Marchioness of Eglar, who is at present the aide-de-camp to the Lord Lieutenant. Military experience, however slight, is at a premium, and a medical student, with a little volunteer training, is commanding as sergeant a squad which includes among the privates a university professor of law.

Mr. Redmond sent out an appeal to President Michael J. Ryan, head of the United Irish League of America, for funds to aid the volunteers in securing the necessary equipment. Mr. Ryan sent the following reply by cable:

Philadelphia, June 21, 1914. Redmond, Parliament House, London:

National committee meeting July 10. All needed money forthcoming. Liberty-loving America practically unanimous in approval of your leadership. Tory contention limited to 20th century spirit and defeat certain. This is an era of awakened democracy.

The call for the meeting is issued by Michael J. Ryan, T. B. Fitzpatrick and Michael J. Jordan, the national officers of the United Irish League in America. It will be held in New York. Mr. Ryan has also sent an appeal to the Irish World in which he says: "Ireland relies upon the United Irish League, the Irish World and friends who have held up the hands of Mr. Redmond and the Irish Parliamentary party during these last 15 years. It is, of course, a reflection on the common sense of the Irish people to think that they will now entrust their confidence to those men in America, who for the past 15 years, at least, have done their utmost to cripple the Irish movement; who have left no words unuttered that would vilify Irish leadership, and have hesitated at nothing calculated to check the onward movement of the Irish people. Any campaign under their auspices would be doomed to certain failure.

"Speaking as I know Mr. Redmond would, were he here, and speaking as I know I do for the Irish race in the United States, I ask you to appeal to all our scattered kindred wherever your great journal circulates, and I respectfully request you to throw open your columns and invite subscriptions.

"The money that may be subscribed will be remitted by you to our national treasurer, T. B. Fitzpatrick, of Boston, and without the deduction of a single penny for any service of any kind by any national officer, will be transmitted to the organization of Ireland, to be spent for the purpose for which it was contributed and without diminution of any kind, namely, to exalt the cause of Ireland, to ennoble the Irish name and Irish character, and to make certain Irish history."

With the volunteers under the control of Mr. Redmond, they will be used wisely for Ireland's good and the money necessary for their equipment will be freely contributed by the friends of Irish freedom everywhere knowing that it will be well spent.

There has been considerable apprehension of trouble on July 12, the anniversary of the battle of Agincourt, which the Orangemen have been gloating over since, but it is probable that the compromise measures under consideration in parliament will be so held in suspense that all parties will deem it advisable to let that day pass without any disturbance.

The amending bill will be passed finally slightly modified perhaps, but not so as to effect the permanent division of Ireland. Before the end of the present month it is confidently expected that the whole trouble will be settled and all the talk of civil war will be dropped with the nationalist volunteers will remain in existence as a body ready to respond to a call to defeat home rule should any future ministry attempt to repeal the act.

GEORGIE BURNS, GIANT OUTFIELD STAR, AFTER RECORD AS A RUN GETTER

BURNS

George Burns, who broke into the big league with a crash last season, is showing his worth in every department of the game. His greatest success, however, is as a scorer. Georgie has already passed the half-century mark and is way ahead of his rivals in the parent league. If he keeps going at the present rate the thinnest boy should set the high water mark in run getting.

LADY LOOKABOUT

Have you seen that tiny monkey going about the streets with his master, an organ-grinder? He is the most cunning little animal I have ever seen. To say that he is almost human does not half describe him. It is interesting to look about in the crowd he attracts. The street urchin of course is always there in large numbers, but I have been amused at some of the others. More than once, I have seen persons of great dignity and high standing in our city, pause and watch the antics of the little simian. Now I am not going to be flippant and comment on the descent of man. Rather, I am going to say that I like to see these monkeys forget their cares for the moment, and I am sure, that could we analyze their thoughts would not be greatly unlike those of the street urchin, for after all, what are men but boys grown up, much older and much more tired.

The Rubbish Receptacles

A few days ago I found myself on Merrimack street with a piece of wrapping paper which I did not wish to carry around and which I did not care to throw into the street. I carried it until I reached the square before the city hall. I found a receptacle for great dumps and high standing in our city, pause and watch the antics of the little simian. Now I am not going to be flippant and comment on the descent of man. Rather, I am going to say that I like to see these monkeys forget their cares for the moment, and I am sure, that could we analyze their thoughts would not be greatly unlike those of the street urchin, for after all, what are men but boys grown up, much older and much more tired.

The Tag Day Ladies

Great credit is due the ladies who made such a success of Tag Day. Any one who thinks that all must realize what a very difficult thing it is for a lady to approach entire strangers and solicit money, however worthy the cause. Particularly, is it embarrassing in a cosmopolitan city like ours, around the Fourth of July, when the occasion draws a heterogeneous throng. This fact was fully appreciated by the committee in charge of Tag Day, and only the pressing need of our stricken sister-city made the plan feasible at this time. Therefore, great credit should be given to those women whose spirit of charity and self-sacrifice has made it possible for the sympathetically inclined to assist even in a small way to alleviate the suffering in Salem, and at the same time add further glory among other cities, to the fair name of Lowell which never failed to respond generously to the call for aid from those in distress.

Safety First

"Safety first" is the slogan of the day. It has replaced the well-known "Stop, Look, Listen" of railroad crossing fame. I like it better. It urges each of us to use care toward our neighbor rather than to be forever on the defensive, as the old mandate suggests. Already, since this slogan has been adopted, there is a noticeable decrease of accidents in connection with street and railway, as compared to the figures of a year ago. Many accidents are not due to carelessness or negligence on the part of operators or drivers of conveyances and vehicles, as they are to the extremely careless conduct of passengers and pedestrians. It is a rare sight to see a man wait until a street car comes to a full stop before he alights, and yet if he trips and falls, or is injured in any way during the process of alighting, he is sure to blame the operating company and to bring suit for damages accordingly. Take a street crossing for example. Almost no one takes the trouble to look either way before crossing, and it is due only to a kind Providence and an acquired skill in getting out of the way, that there are not more accidents. With all due respect to my sex, a woman is the most erratic of creatures when she finds herself in the path of an approaching automobile. Personally, I would prefer to meet a flock of hens (and they are accounted as brainless as it is possible to be), to one woman in the path of an automobile, with two possible avenues of escape open to her. Invariably, she stands stock still until she ascertains which way the machine is going to proceed, then she makes for the same direction, the personification of indecision and indignation. With the "Safety first" thought uppermost in the mind of each and everyone of us, I am sure the number of accidents incident to traffic will be reduced to a minimum.

Advance in Temperance

It is a source of much satisfaction to those of us who are really interested in the welfare of his fellow-beings to note the headway temperance is making in this country. Statistics from Washington show that the revenue from distilled liquors has fallen off over four and one-fourth millions of dollars during the past twelve months. This advance in the progress of temperance is in accord with the great wave of temperance which is encircling the world. Each of us should feel a personal interest in this and each of us should do all in his power to assist its progress. Right here I do not think it out of place to comment on the attitude of The Sun toward temperance. The Sun refuses to accept advertisements from liquor dealers who wish to attract attention to their goods. The far-reaching influence of this attitude on the part of the proprietor of a newspaper of The Sun's magnitude cannot be overestimated in a manufacturing city like Lowell. The pity is that the policy is so rare even among newspapers that profess to have no love for the saloon.

Women Suffrage

"However it be, it seems to me," that when a man gets to the point where his only objection to suffrage for women is that it will destroy his natural dignity and sweetness—his femininity—he has just about reached the last ditch and he may as well succumb gracefully to the inevitable, or else fall into the ditch and so cut himself off.

Men are worrying lest the feminist movement displace the maternal and home-making instincts with which every woman is endowed by her Creator. Do not worry, Mr. Man. You might

N. Y. AUTHORITIES TO AVERT TROUBLE AT FUNERAL OF BOMB VICTIMS

NEW YORK, July 8.—Alexander Berkman, the I. W. W. agitator and anarchist leader, arranged a public demonstration of his radical followers at the funeral on Saturday, July 11, for the three victims of the bomb explosion in the Lexington avenue flat. It was alleged that these three men were in the anarchist plot to blow up John D. Rockefeller, but the bomb went off prematurely in the flat where it was made. Berkman, accompanied by Becky Edelson, Charles Plunkitt and others, were hoisted out of Tarrytown, N. Y., where they went to defend the twelve I. W. W. persons who were arrested for the free speech demonstrations. It is said that the New York authorities may order immediate burial of the bodies and if this is done trouble may be averted.

mate of a bush-whacker in Australia, or a clay-entire in the Carolinas, or a little mill girl in Lowell, Massachusetts. These qualities are part of human nature, and gentlemen, you cannot reckon without taking human nature into account, nature study, hygiene, the higher thought, mental therapeutics, high ideals, the Montessori method and eugenics to the contrary. "It can't be done." I suppose, also, it is but another phase of human nature that man ever should have something about which to worry. Now while I am not so young as I used to be, I am neither ancient nor rock-rubbed as the sun, yet I can well recall when that odious opprobrium, now happily obsolete, "old maid," was man's way of designating his unmarried female relatives and friends. She was quite the butt of his ridicule, because she had not married. How the times have changed! The same "old maid" still worries him, now because he chooses to think he has a formidable rival in the ballot. Truly, I believe that when Adam gave up a rib and thereby started the feminist movement, the rib was replaced by a thorn which still wiggles playfully in the side of man when he considers the trend of feminism.

TAG DAY COMMITTEE

EXPRESSES THANKS TO ALL WHO ASSISTED IN MAKING TAG DAY A SUCCESS

The special committee on Tag Day conducted for the Salem sufferers issues the following expression of its thanks to all those who assisted in making the undertaking such a grand success:

We have the pleasure to announce that the work of the tag day committee is completed and the result far exceeds our expectations which result could never be accomplished were it not for the noble work of the ladies who had charge of the sale of tags. No language can convey our thanks to these noble women who worked from early morning until near the midnight hour to collect this money for the sufferers of the Salem disaster.

The same noble spirit that completed this work is still further displayed by those who attended to the guests at city hall, and who seek no credit for themselves for the work achieved. This only goes to prove what may be expected from the women of Lowell when the good name of our city is to be upheld. As the committee appointed by the committees of severely we wish to thank each and every lady, chairman, secretary and treasurer and each down to the last one, that took part in this noble work that brought so much credit to our city and such relief to the Salem sufferers. We also wish to thank his honor, the mayor of our city for his untiring efforts in the work of tag day, being constantly on guard until midnight, attending to details. We desire to express our thanks to the Tobin Printing Company who so kindly finished the badges and tags free of charge, also the Mahoney Printing Company, for favors to the press for liberal space and to any and all who in any way helped to make this tag day a success.

The total amount collected amounted to $226.57, expenses $45.55, making a net total of $181.02.

We return our most sincere thanks, James O'Sullivan, William D. Brown, John H. Murphy, Tag Day Committee.

Relief work at the state armory and other stations was conducted more satisfactorily yesterday than ever before. Assistance is being given with

PUTNAM HEARING PUT OFF

BIG CROWD DISAPPOINTED

PHILADELPHIA, July 7.—Captain Putnam of the revenue cutter Scripps, who ended a 5000 mile race from Chicago to the Field Museum of Natural History here, died last night of illness brought on by exposure during an expedition in Mexico. Prof. Meek, who was 44 years old, was an authority on the fishes and reptiles of this hemisphere. He was a member of the United States fish commission.

Every man who has worked on the street department for the last five or six years and who is idle at the present time was on hand this morning to listen to the hearing on the charges brought by Alderman Charles J. Morse for the removal of Newell P. Putnam from the position of superintendent of streets for the city of Lowell. The hearing was scheduled to take place at 11 o'clock, but it was 30 minutes later when the council got together and every seat in the gallery and on the chamber floor was taken. The spectators had been waiting for more than an hour and to say that they were disappointed when the hearing was postponed is putting it very mildly.

City Solicitor J. Joseph Honessy had the case in hand for the municipal council and Frank E. Dunbar and Edward J. Tierney appeared for the respondent. A conference before the meeting of the council members, knowing that a postponement would be asked, agreed to postpone the case to Saturday of this week. Mr. Dunbar, however, said it would be impossible to make the necessary investigation of records by that time and he asked the hearing be continued to Wednesday of next week at 10 a. m. Alderman Carmichael thought the request a reasonable one and moved that it be granted. The vote was unanimous and the hearing was postponed.

After the postponement had been voted, Mr. Dunbar filed a motion for specifications. There were six counts contained in the order of removal, which, by the way, was published in full in the Sun on Friday of last week. Council for the respondent more particularly wherein Mr. Putnam's removal from the office of the superintendent of streets is for the good of the public service. The council is asked to specify more particularly in all of the counts. The chief charge states that the commissioner of streets had the necessary confidence in Mr. Putnam and in the request for specifications, the council is asked wherein and for what reason and because of what events the commissioner of streets has not the necessary confidence in and reliance upon the judgment and ability of Mr. Putnam and what irregularities appeared during his administration.

Called to Order
Mayor Murphy called to order at 11:30 with all members present. The hearing of the C. B. Coburn Co. for gasoline license was declared opened and closed and the matter was referred to commissioner of public property and license and fire protection.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—After 31 years behind the bars under life sentence for murder, Spokee, a Blackfoot Indian, was unconditionally pardoned today by President Wilson. He will be released at once from the federal hospital for insane here to return to his daughter at Browning, Mont., whom he has not seen since she was a baby.

A party of Blackfoot, sightseeing in Washington, months ago, happened upon Spokee, grown gray with his long imprisonment. They established his true identity by an Indian song and one of the interpreters recognized in Spokee the hero of an old legend who had disappeared a score of years ago into some white man's jail. Blackfoot mothers have been singing their children to sleep with a song about him ever since.

Officials of the Indian office, advised of the discovery, began an investigation which resulted in his pardon. Spokee was charged with the murder of a white man near the Canadian boundary north of the Montana line. It is thought by the department of justice that the murder probably was committed in Canada and that the territorial courts of Montana had no jurisdiction.

DAUGHTERS OBJECT
PARKERSBURG, W. Va., July 7.—Despite the objections of her two daughters and other relatives, Mrs. Ada W. Sellers, widow of D. F. M. Sellers, eloped yesterday with her chauffeur, Royden O. Murphy. The couple came to this city, where they were married.

Mrs. Sellers inherited a large fortune from her husband, who was killed in an automobile accident a few years ago. She fell in love with Murphy soon after the latter had entered her employ. The couple are spending their honeymoon on an automobile tour.

FUNERALS
LAMPRON.—The funeral of Joseph Lampron took place from his home, 111 Ford street. Services were held at St. Joseph's church at 9 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Racette, Claude and Baron. The bearers were Joseph, John and Edward Lampron, Joseph, Claude and Alfred Bibeault and Joseph Laplante. Burial was in St. Joseph's cemetery.

HAMLIN.—The funeral service of Mrs. Abbie Fowler Hamlin took place at the Unitarian church in Westford and was largely attended. The floral offerings were profuse and beautiful and were borne by the pastor, Rev. Louis H. Bunker, and the officiating clergyman. There was singing by Mrs. C. A. Blaney and Mrs. H. M. Weaver, who sang "Lead, Kindly Light" and "Jesus, Lover of My Soul." The bearers were H. B. Prescott, O. R. Spaulding, Fred Burdick and Clarence Fletcher. The undertakers in charge were David L. Greig & Son. Burial was in Fairview cemetery.

NATIONAL DENTAL ASSOCIATION
ROCHESTER, N. Y., July 7.—With nearly 400 delegates in attendance the sixth annual convention of the National Dental Association was opened today in Exposition park. The day's program included the annual address of President Homer C. Brown and lectures and discussions of phases of operative dentistry and kindred subjects by a president over by Dr. Henry A. Kelley of Portland, Me., and Dr. Charles Turner of Philadelphia.

City Laborers' Severe Council
The mayor read a communication from Secretary Anderson of the trades union council relative to the placing of city employees under civil service rules. The letter scored the council for taking a secret ballot on the question and declared that the question should no longer be evaded. The letter: To His Honor the Mayor and Members of the Municipal Council, Gentlemen:

The question of placing the employees of our city under civil service rule has been discussed at several meetings of the trades and labor council, and the organized movement of the city feel that our city employees should come under civil service for the protection of the public.

How to Make a Real
Wrinkle Remover
In these days of cleverly advertised "beautifiers" of 57 varieties and more, it is hard for a woman to believe she can make a simple home remedy for these untoward marks of age, worry and illness, which will do her more good and cost her much less than the average made preparation. There's nothing in the world so effective for removing or preventing wrinkles, crow's feet and creases as a solution made by dissolving an ounce of pure powdered salicylic acid in a half-pint of witch hazel. Every druggist has the ingredients.

Use this harmless mixture daily as a refreshing lotion, bathing the face in it two or three minutes at a time. The quick and satisfactory result will surprise you. Even the first application produces wonderful improvement. The wrinkles are less in evidence and the face has a firm, "solid," comfortable feeling.

ELOPES WITH CHAUFFEUR $100,000 FOR SALE
BOSTON, July 7.—Under suspension of the rules, the senate today passed to engrossment a bill to appropriate $100,000 for the relief of fire sufferers at Salem. The bill had already been enacted by the house.

Under the constitution the state could not appropriate money for relief of Salem but according to the attorney general might appropriate the amount for disbursement by the state board of charity.

Contributions of $15,925 were received today for the relief of the fire sufferers, making the total fund subscribed $412,673.

JACK MATTHEWS IS REAL LEADER

ROBERTSON AND STOCK, GIANT FINDS, LEARNED GAME ON THE SAME CLUB

Has Climbed Up in His Batting During Past Two Weeks

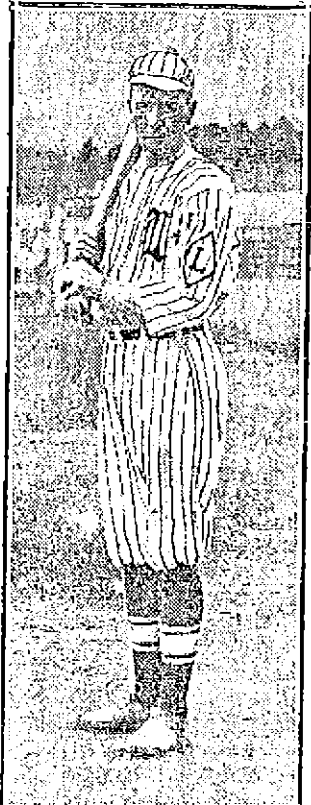

Matty is Dangerous Batter in the Pinch—Led Maine N. B. League

Jack Matthews is leading the Lowell players with the wand, having made rapid strides toward the top of the league's hitting list during the past two weeks. Matty's average at present is .324.

The Lowell center fielder has proved a find for Manager Gray and many a game has been won by the local team by Matthews' hitting in the pinches. The Worcester boy did not start off very well but has improved steadily and is now batting at a clip which will soon land him at the top if he continues to slug the sphere in the average style he has displayed during the past fortnight.

Matthews had a difficult job on hand when he essayed to hit Pottenger's shot after the latter's release but he went at it in his habitual quiet way and opposing clubs soon found to their sorrow that Lowell possessed a ball player of note in the middle garden. The only fault that we have to find with Matthews is the manner in which he goes after balls which are hit over his head. He doesn't seem to size up a fly or a line drive very quickly and sometimes it is too late when he finally decides where it is going to land.

JACK MATTHEWS

At the bat, however, is where the Lowell centerfielder shines. He is a dangerous man for any opposing pitcher to attack when in a pinch and is almost certain to hit the ball. Matthews bats and throws right handed. He has played in 37 games, scored 21 runs, hits safely 16 times for a total of 57 and boasts an average of .324. Last year Matthews was the batting sensation of the Maine-New Brunswick league which he led with an average well over the .400 mark.

ROCHESTER, N. Investigation with rabbits has shown that when injections of the virus of a tooth abscess are made they die within a few days, or upon being killed show heart muscles badly deteriorated, serious kidney troubles, joint disease and arteries broken down.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

D. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

Those who like occasionally to get a new point of view on an oft-told story will enjoy "Horrors of the French photo-drama which will be shown at the D. F. Keith Theatre, named "The Apprentice," by Gustave Geffroy, the noted French realist. A story of wonderfully sustained interest, it courses through it, and although the story is unusual, the theme underlying it all will make the deepest impression. It is all a severe arraignment of warfare, although the scenes are not those of battlefields and fighting masses of men. How a family gradually goes down hill, disintegrates and dies as the result of a war are all tersely pointed out in this picture. Other photo-dramas on the bill are "The Last of the Old Mill," "The Passing of Diana," and "The Heart-Song." News Pictorial, "Morningsong," a Lowell girl sings two numbers at each performance.

THE OWL THEATRE

It takes a vivid imagination to visualize the situations in "Through

STOCK AND ROBERTSON

Dave Robertson and Milton Stock, the two finds of the season, who were uncovered by McGraw, learned the gentle art of baseball on the same club. Both these youngsters were farmed out by the Giants and performed for the Mobile club of the Southern league all last season. Stock plays third base, while Robertson is an outfielder. In the accompanying photo Robertson is shown in the front.

Dante's "Flames" the four-part feature at the Owl today and tomorrow. And yet the action is plausible and natural, mental aphasia is not new to medical science, but it is not the first time it has been seriously employed to produce sensational dramatic effects. That circumstances alter cases is convincingly impressed upon you when you see this photo-play. It is a picture drama you will view with heart-pangs and amazement. Others on the program are "The Detective," the second of the new series, serial-comic but with a touch of drama now and then. "Love and Bullets," a Keystone comedy will be shown, also "Jim," a two-reel feature, specially added for the benefit of the patrons who like variety. Jack Dalton will sing.

THE ROYAL THEATRE
Again "The Perils of Pauline" will delight audiences at the Royal on Wednesday and Thursday, the last series of the light will be shown. A thrilling rescue of Pauline effected through her lover's skill is the principal scene. She is seen darting down a hill, while a big boulder, weighing about a ton, is descending swiftly upon her. She is rescued by her lover, and pulled out of the path just in the nick of time. The whole action is projected right on the screen, and is a real thriller. There are other thrills in it, but this is the particularly strong one. The other pictures secured for these days, are all the latest and best subjects, comedies and dramas in good measure. Thursday, the night for the nation will be turned in to the Salem relief fund. On Friday and Saturday, "The Adventures of Kathlyn," the next series will be shown as a specially added feature.

THEATRE VOYONS
Today will be the last chance to see the second installment of "The Perils of Pauline." This is without doubt the most wonderful series ever produced and should be seen every week.

"The Elder Brother," a two-part extravaganza featuring the wonderful actor, Francis X. Bushelman, is one of the best pictures that has been shown and Mr. Bushelman with his able assistants make this an exceptionally good offering. Thursday's feature "Kiss Me Good Night," a Lubin two-part release, featuring Arthur Johnson and Lottie Briscoe, will be offered for your approval in connection with a very strong program.

BOMB EXPLOSION IN WAKEFIELD

ARREST IN BAILEY
MURDER CASE TODAY

Dis. Atty. Smith Informed Coroner After Inquest That He Believed a Woman Should Immediately be Arrested and Held for Murder

FREEMONT, N. Y., July 8.—The inquest into the death of Mrs. Louise Bailey, mysteriously murdered on the night of Tuesday, June 30, in the office of Dr. Edwin Carman, a practicing physician in this village, was closed shortly before noon today. No verdict was immediately announced, but one was expected later in the day.

Ellsworth Barnes, a new witness testified just before the hearing closed that he had seen a woman he was unable to identify, running away from the doctor's office shortly after the shot which killed Mrs. Bailey was fired. She wore a dark skirt and white shirtwaist. Witnesses testifying at previous sessions of the inquest swore that Mrs. Carman was thus garbed on the night of the murder. She has maintained, however, that she was dressed in a kimono and in her bedroom.

This contention of Mrs. Carman was borne out on the stand today by her young daughter, Elizabeth. The district attorney informed the coroner after the inquest that he believed a woman should immediately be arrested and held for the murder. The coroner answered that he would review the testimony taken at today's inquest and might order an arrest before night.

Gaston Boissonault, manager of the detective division of a company which manufactures devices to record conversations, was the first witness called today at the inquest into the death of Mrs. Louise Bailey.

It was Boissonault's company that installed a telephone device in Dr. Carman's office some time before the murder at the order of Mrs. Carman. The witness told today of the first call of Mrs. Carman at his office. She first said she was a dressmaker, then admitted her identity, adding that she had many domestic troubles and wanted to hear what went on in her husband's office. This was on May 12. The witness said arrangements for the rental of the instrument were made that day.

On the same day Mrs. Carman made plans to take her husband away for two days while the instrument was being installed.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY SMITH SAYS MURDERER OF MRS. BAILEY IS NO LONGER A MYSTERY

FREEMONT, N. Y., July 8.—That the murder of Mrs. Louise Bailey on Tuesday of last week in the office of

Dr. Edwin Carman is no longer a mystery, is the belief of Louis J. Smith, district attorney of Nassau county. Tomorrow Mr. Smith will appear before the grand jury and, according to a statement made by him he will ask that an indictment be returned against the person he suspects of having killed Mrs. Bailey.

Detectives today were running down a new theory of the killing that was advanced in Freemont yesterday. This was in the effect that a New York gangster played a part in it, that he brought the weapon from New York, broke the glass of the window looking upon Dr. Carman's office, handed the gun to the slayer, took it back after the shooting and then escaped with it.

Several subpoenas have been issued ordering witnesses to appear before the grand jury. Among those in Freemont who received one is Miss Hazel Coombs the young girl who testified at the last session of the inquest that Mrs. Carman was down stairs fully dressed about half an hour before the shooting. Another witness will be Gaston Boissonault, manager of the company who dealt with Mrs. Carman when she rented and then purchased a telephone device, one end of which was concealed in the doctor's office and the other in a desk drawer in her bedroom.

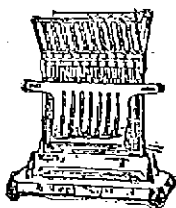

Eye Witness to Murder

Just before the inquest was resumed, the district attorney announced that he had discovered a new witness, a man who says he was an eye-witness to the murder. The man, an insurance agent, says he was passing the Carman home about 8 o'clock on the night of the murder when he heard a crash of glass and turning to see what caused it saw a woman dressed in white looking through a window into the physician's office. Then he told the detectives he heard the report of a revolver and saw the woman disappear toward the rear of the house.

It was said the man might be placed on the witness stand provided preliminary examination did not disclose facts in his story.

Mr. Patrick Farrell and family at Schol street are occupying their cottage at Hampton beach.

John J. Murray, of Gorham street, has moved into his new home in South Wilder street which he recently purchased.

WRECKS THE HOME OF CANE FACTORY BOSS

Dastardly Attempt to Destroy Home and Family of Richard S. Stout of Heywood Brothers & Wakefield Co.'s Factory Recently Closed by Strike—Infernal Machine Exploded in Kitchen—Police Find no Clue to Perpetrators

Anarchy lifts its head in Massachusetts as appears in the attempt early this morning to wreck the home of Richard S. Stout, superintendent of the cane department at the factory of Heywood Brothers & Wakefield Co., at Wakefield. The outrage shows that the anarchistic element takes advantage of labor strikes to carry on its nefarious business for the subversion of law and organized society. The act calls for the greatest activity of the state police and rigorous measures to drive out the anarchists in whatever guise they may appear.

WAKEFIELD, July 8.—Investigation of the partial wrecking of the home of Richard S. Stout on Donnet street by a bomb thrown through the kitchen window early today has been started by the police but with few clues to work on.

The police believe that the explanation of the attack on Mr. Stout was to be found in the fact that he partially reopened the cane-splitting department of the Heywood Bros. & Wakefield Co. which had been closed because of a strike. Mr. Stout is foreman of the cane splitting department and the arrival of a shipment of material about a week ago necessitated employment of about 20 men by him.

The explosion occurred shortly before 2 a. m. William J. Stout, a son, who was aroused by the sound of breaking glass, awakened his father and another son, George Stout. While the three listened for further sounds of the supposed burglar there was a sudden explosion which shook the house, sent pictures and bric-a-brac smashing to the floor and blew out many of the windows and doors on the ground floor.

Mr. Stout and his sons and a housekeeper, Mrs. Ellen Gage, the only people in the house, escaped injury.

Bomb Thrower Escaped

Neighbors awakened by the explosion hurried to the house but no sign of the bombthrower was found and the police who started their investigation at daylight were unable to find any traces to indicate who was responsible.

The police are satisfied that the explosion was due to a charge of dynamite, for the force of the explosion was downward, several of the big cellar beams beneath the kitchen being splintered and the water and gas pipes in the cellar broken. In the kitchen the windows were carried away, sashes and all, while in other parts of the house only the glass was shattered. A very door on the lower floor of the house was torn from its hinges. Mr. Stout estimates the damage at $1000.

In the residence of Frank B. Lucas, adjoining the Stout home, pictures were shaken from the walls and other damage was done. The Wakefield House for Aged Women is just across the street and for a time there was considerable excitement among the dozen inmates.

The state police have been called and they are conducting the investigation. The authorities are of the opinion that the bomb was thrown as the result of the strike in the factory as a warning to other officials.

Awakened by Heavy Crash

In describing the occurrence William J. Stout said: "I was awakened shortly before 2 o'clock by a heavy crash of falling glass. I believed the noise came from the kitchen, directly beneath my bedroom, and I came to the conclusion that a burglar was in the act of entering the house downstairs. I went into the upper hall and met my father and brother, who were also awakened by the loud noise. I started to get a club or some weapon, to go downstairs to find out what was wrong, but my brother warned me against doing it and urged me to stay upstairs.

"In less than a minute there was a terrific explosion, which nearly knocked us from our feet. We went downstairs after the explosion and came to the conclusion immediately that a bomb had been exploded. The kitchen was full of smoke and we thought the house was afire and we saw no one on the grounds when we looked outside."

Richard S. Stout, owner of the house, said: "I know of no personal reason why anyone should throw a bomb into my house. I believe the affair is an outgrowth of the strike at the factory, but I am unable to explain it."

None of the persons living in the vicinity saw anyone on the Stout grounds when they were awakened by the explosion. In the rear of the house are several trees and bushes standing between the barn and the residence, and these would afford an excellent screen for one running across the premises to Main street. Railroad tracks run close by the house and escape by several directions would be an easy matter.

Other Officials Alarmed

Considerable fear was expressed by other officials of the raton factory when the news of the bomb throwing spread. Pres. Charles H. Lang, Jr. of the company was notified of the occurrence and a guard of police was detailed from the Melrose police station to spend the remainder of the night at his house. Fear was also expressed that the person who threw the bomb into the Stout residence might

Municipal Employees Union Siding With Coal Teamsters Refuse to Handle Cement on Paving Job—Contract Work May be Introduced—Sewer Work

The paving work in Gorham street is still being held up because of the Coal Teamsters' strike, the street department men, members of the municipal employees' union and the city teamsters' union refusing to handle the cement. The public in general is very much incensed over the attitude of the men connected with the municipal unions. It was stated today that the present difficulty would probably result in city work being let out by contract and men familiar with the situation declare that contract work would mean a big saving to the city.

Chief of Police Pollard began an investigation of the bomb throwing early in the forenoon, but found no clue. Only the box of matches was left as evidence that a person had been in the rear yard. Search failed to reveal even a splinter of the bomb which was used.

The students of stenography and typewriting in the city who as a rule have no opportunity to keep up their profession during the summer months will be glad to learn that the Lowell Commercial college will open July 13 for a summer course prepared especially for those who do not care to lose adeptness by the long summer vacation of public and private schools. The school will be open for a few hours each day the idea being more to retain what each individual has learned than to advance. Efficiency in both subjects is greatly impaired by protracted lack of practice. The summer school students will have the use of the "model office" as well as all the rest of the school's equipment.

Reason Why Part of Dracut Should be Annexed—Residents Get Little for High Taxes Paid

The editorial in The Sun Monday night in relation to annexation has got some of the townspeople talking. A prominent citizen of Dracut to the writer yesterday "and you can safely state in your paper that unless the so much-talked about electric lights on the state boulevard between the city line and Belle Grove are installed within a short time, a movement of some kind will be started among the residents of that district and inasmuch as annexation has been the topic of discussion on several occasions in that locality it is very probable that the men will get to work and push the matter along."

As a matter of fact an annexation movement was agitated in Kenwood, Brookside and Belle Grove a few years ago when the pay-as-you-go policy was adopted by the citizens of the town. The residents along the river road felt at that time that the increased tax-rate was a burden upon them which had no right to exist, considering what they were receiving in return. In those days, many claimed Dracut Centre and the Navy Yard districts were receiving the best, while Collinsville and the river road district were absolutely ignored. However the grievances of the residents of the above localities were published in The Sun and it was also mentioned that annexation was the main topic of discussion in certain parts of the town and the result was that the voters of other parts of the town decided it was about time something be done for Kenwood and Belle Grove and accordingly at the last town meeting held in March, a certain sum of money was appropriated and it was voted to install 25 electric lights along the state boulevard. This was not considered a favor by the residents along the road but an urgent necessity, but nevertheless the lights are still to be installed, despite the fact that a hearing was held and that there were no shutters and that the Lowell Electric Light Corp. with which a contract had been signed was given full power to go along and install the lights.

Nearly four months have now elapsed and all that has been done in the matter is the selection of locations for the proposed poles. At the beginning it was stated that the company would not install lights unless some of the residents of the district agreed to wire their homes and use the lights in their residences and they do say that many have signed contracts with the corporation, but the lights are still to come, and this is the story of the 25 electric lights.

The gentleman who volunteered the information to the writer stated that the road is one of the most dangerous spots in the state at night. The lives of people who use the road are constantly in danger he said, and unless something is done very soon,

PEOPLE WITH THIN BLOOD

Some people have a tendency to become thin-blooded just as others have an inherited tendency to rheumatism, or to nervous disorders. The condition in which the blood becomes so thin that the whole body suffers comes on so gradually and stealthily that anyone with a natural disposition in that direction should watch the symptoms carefully. Bloodlessness, or anemia, as the medical term is, can be corrected much more easily in the earlier stages than later. It begins with a tired feeling that rest does not overcome, the complexion becomes pale, and breathlessness on slight exertion, such as going up stairs, is noticed.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a home remedy that has been most successful in the treatment of diseases caused by thin blood. With pure air and wholesome food these blood-making pills afford the correct treatment when the symptoms described are noticed. A former sufferer from anemia says: "I was emaciated and did not have a particle of color. I had severe headaches, had no ambition and could just drag around." Dr. Williams' Pink Pills quickly restored appetite, flesh and health. A full statement of this case with directions regarding diet will be found in the booklet, "Building Up the Blood," sent free by Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

some fatality will occur on the road. Within the past few weeks there have been two automobile accidents on the road and it is almost a miracle that no lives were lost, and both accidents are due to the fact that the road is not lighted. Automobiles by the hundred go up and down the road and some at a very high rate of speed and pedestrians who wish to board electric cars are constantly in danger.

"For one, favor annexing Elmwood, Kenwood, Brookside and Belle Grove to Lowell and I know of many who favor the project. By Lowell taking this part of the town, sewerage would be put in, the water mains would be extended and the district would be thoroughly protected in case of fire, and it is safe to assume that the state road would be properly lighted."

"Last year's tax rate in Dracut was $27.60 per thousand and this year it may drop to $23, and some have homes that within a few years it will drop to a normal rate that is about $18 or $20 per thousand, but even at that rate we would be paying as high as the citizens of Lowell and more too and we would not receive half the benefits we would get if we were annexed to Lowell. The district is composed of city people who are living as city folks but who are not receiving the many advantages enjoyed by residents of Lowell. There is practically no farming done in that part of Dracut and were the district annexed to Lowell, it is possible that manufacturing concerns would locate themselves along the shores of the Merrimack river, where there is plenty of good land available and the beneficiaries would be the residents of the locality."

The speaker reviewed the doings of the town during the past ten or twelve years and admitted that the town is practically out of debt. He said the schools are nearly all paid for and there is little outstanding debt. He said during the past ten or twelve years the town has paid off an outstanding debt of $17,000 and has taken care of its running expenses, but the taxpayers were burdened and there is really nothing to show outside of a few school buildings. Some say that the tax rate will drop to a normal figure and they give as a reason for the high jump that the road work which has been neglected for the past twenty years, has been done during the past 2 or 3 years. Now if during the past twenty years with a tax rate of $18 we were not able to keep up the good condition of our roads, how are we going to do it in the future? I feel that the tax rate may drop for a year or so, but it is bound to rise again and, therefore, the best thing we can do is to annex at least the Belle Grove district to Lowell. The Navy Yard with its mills would also be greatly benefited by annexation.

BOSTON, July 8.—Warmer weather, with sunny spells interspersed with showers, is the best guess of the weather man for the next few days. This means that yesterday, which though damp and chilly, lay below the average for the time of year, was nevertheless not a record for cold by six degrees, and marked the turning point of the dismal spell that has characterized the past week.

Nothing like a hot wave, however, is in sight. Nor are there any storms on the horizon. The low record yesterday was 61 degrees, that being the figure about which the thermometer hovered much of the early morning. This is 10 degrees lower than the coldest a year ago, and compares with a low of 65 in 1904, and a record low of 51 in 1888. Yesterday's high record was 69, at 2 p. m., while a year ago the thermometer shot up to 83 in the shade.

The first week in July has had a larger rainfall than the entire month of June, bringing contentment to expectant truck farmers and horticulturists, and new life to scorched lawns. The rain fell for July 1, was 0.7 of an inch, for July 2, 1.04, for the 21 hours ending yesterday morning, 1.04, totalling 2.85 for the week, as compared with 1.40 for the whole month of June.

In spite of the cold weather of the past week, the year is still far ahead as regards heat excess. Up to July 1, there was an excess of 166 over normal, and the past week lagged only 60 degrees behind normal, so that there is still an excess of 118 to store away against more wintry weather.

ON EDUCATIONAL TOPICS

32 MEETINGS FOR THEIR DISCUSSION AT CONVENTION OF NATIONAL EDUCATIONAL ASSO.

ST. PAUL, July 8.—With harmony in the ranks of the National Education association assumed as a result of the withdrawal from the presidential race last night of Dr. David Johnson of Rockhill, S. C., and L. R. Adderman of Portland, Ore., in favor of Dr. David Starr Jordan, the convention today put aside political activity and held 23 meetings for the discussion of educational topics.

Committees reported and speakers discussed educational tests for children, school gardens, use of moving pictures in schools, sex hygiene and other problems.

Segregation of mentally defective children was recommended in a paper read by Dr. Franklin Barrows of Buffalo, New York, state medical inspector of schools, before the department of special education.

That moving pictures are destined to become the most recent method of teaching was the contention of speakers at a meeting devoted to the discussion of their use. They said that motion pictures give visibility and quicken the imagination of the child to acted by the municipal council of a building ordinance which will not only prohibit the use of wooden or combustible shingles on any building erected in Lynn after Aug. 1, but which will also require that all buildings when altered or repaired must be covered with fire resisting material.

The fire prevention committee of the chamber of commerce presented to the council yesterday a draft of an ordinance which will be asked to have incorporated in the building laws. When the ordinance as proposed was read, Finance Commissioner Turnbull objected to its adoption on the ground that its scope was not sufficiently broad to eliminate the use of wooden shingles. He asserted that the council should set a date for the elimination of all shingles of an inflammable character and he suggested that 15 years ought to be sufficient time to give all property owners an opportunity to make the change.

Requiring the elimination of wooden shingles in a shorter period, according to Mayor Newhall, would be a hardship upon property owners which he believed to be unnecessary. The council will draft an ordinance which will provide for the eventual elimination of the dangerous shingles.

DECLINES LIFE PRESERVERS

HAMMONDSPOUT, N. Y., July 5.—Lieut. Preston, chief of the transatlantic flying boat America, yesterday declined a pair of life preservers proffered by Lieut. Samuel Preston, who takes them for the navy aviators. "If the America is wrecked," said Lieut. Preston, "I will wear two bodies floating on the ocean."

RICHMOND SCHOOL ATTENDANCE

BOSTON, July 5.—Newton had the highest average school attendance, per 100 inhabitants, in 1912 of any of the 16 cities in the United States for which figures are given. In the recent government census report on financial necessities of cities having a population over 35,000 each. The average for Newton, was 21 per 100 inhabitants. Newark, N. J., 20.6; Chelsea, 19.9; Waltham, Mass., 17.9; Everett, 17.8; and Boston, 17.6.

The city having the lowest average attendance per 100 inhabitants was Dubuque, Iowa, with an average of 12.5, followed by Charleston, S. C., 7.6; Augusta, Me., 7.5; Covington, Ky., 6.3; and New York, N. Y., 5.7.

LADY LOOKABOUT

Have you seen that tiny monkey going about the streets with his master, an organ-grinder? He is the most cunning little animal I have ever seen. To say that he is almost human does not half describe him. It is interesting to look about in the crowd for attracts. The street archer of course is always there in large numbers, but I have been amused at some of the others. More than once, I have seen persons of great dignity and high standing in our city, pause and watch the antics of the little simian. Now I am not going to be flippant and comment on the descent of man. Rather, I am going to say that I like to see these men forget their cares for the moment, and I am sure, that could we analyze their thoughts would not be greatly unlike those of the street archer. For after all, what are men but boys grown up, much older and much more tired.

The Rubbish Receptacles

A few days ago I found myself on Merrimack street with a pile of wrapping paper which I did not wish to carry around and which I did not care to throw into the street. I carried it until I reached the square before I found a rubbish receptacle. These receptacles, while not particularly beautiful to an outlook, are greatly to be preferred to littered streets, and I am sure they are not expensive. Why not have more of them placed in convenient places on our city streets? If the city cannot stand the expense of them it would be a very worthy cause for the Middlesex Women's club to take up and finance.

The Tag Day Ladies

Great credit is due the ladies who made such a success of Tag Day. Anyone who thinks at all must realize what a very difficult task it is for a lady to approach entire strangers and solicit money, however worthy the cause. Particularly, it is embarrassing in a cosmopolitan city like ours, around the Fourth of July, when the occasion draws a heterogeneous throng. This fact was fully appreciated by the committee in charge of Tag Day, and only the pressing need of our stricken sister-city made the plan feasible at this time. Therefore, great credit should be given to those women whose spirit of charity and self-sacrifice has made it possible for the suffering in Salem, and at the same time add further glory among other cities, to the fair name of Lowell which never failed to respond generously to the call for aid from those in distress.

Safety First

"Safety first" is the slogan of the day. It has replaced the well-known "Look, Listen." I like it better. It urges each of us to use care toward our neighbor rather than to be forever on the defensive, as the old maxim suggests. Already, since this slogan has been adopted, there is a noticeable decrease of accidents in connection with street and railway, as compared to the figures of a year ago. Many accidents are not due to carelessness or negligence on the part of operators or drivers of conveyances and vehicles, as they are to the extremely careless conduct of passengers and pedestrians. It is a rare sight to see a man wait until a street car comes to a full stop before he alights, and yet if he trips and falls, or is injured in any way during the process of alighting, he is sure to blame the operating company and to bring suit for damages accordingly. Take a street crossing for example. Almost no one takes the trouble to look either way before crossing, and it is due only to a kind Providence and an acquired skill in getting out of the way, that there are not more accidents. With all due respect to my sex, a woman is the most erratic of creatures when she finds herself in the path of an approaching automobile. Personally, I would prefer to meet a flock of hens (and they are accounted as brainless as it is possible to be), to one woman in the path of an automobile, with two possible avenues of escape open to her. Invariably she stands stock still until she ascertains which way the machine is going to proceed, then she makes for the same direction, the personification of indecision and indignation. With the "Safety first" thought uppermost in the mind of each and everyone of us, I am sure the number of accidents incident to traffic will be reduced to a minimum.

It is a source of much satisfaction to those of us who are really interested in the welfare of his fellow-beings to note the headway temperance is making in this country. Statistics from Washington show that the revenue from distilled liquors has fallen off over four and one-fourth millions of dollars during the past twelve months. This advance in the progress of temperance is in accord with the great wave of temperance which is encircling the world. Each of us should feel a personal interest in this and each of us should do all in his power to assist its progress. Right here I do not think it out of place to comment on the attitude of The Sun toward temperance. The Sun refuses to accept advertisements from liquor dealers who wish to attract attention to their goods. The far-reaching influence of this attitude on the part of the proprietors of a newspaper of The Sun's magnitude cannot be overestimated in a manufacturing city like Lowell. The city is that the policy is so rare even among newspapers that profess to have no love for the saloon.

Woman's Suffrage

"How'er it be, it seems to me," that when a man gets to the point where his only objection to suffrage for women is that it will lessen her natural dignity and sweetness—her femininity—she has just about reached the last ditch and her man is well equipped to meet her on the inevitable, or else fall into the ditch and so cut himself off.

Men are worrying lest the feminist movement discourage the maternal and home-making instincts with which every woman is endowed by her Creator. Do not worry, Mr. Man. You might

NEW YORK, July 8.—Alexander Berkman, the I. W. W. agitator and anarchist leader, arranged a public demonstration of his radical followers at the funeral on Saturday, July 11, for the three victims of the bomb explosion in the Lexington avenue flat. It was alleged that these three men were in the anarchist plot to blow up John D. Rockefeller, but the bomb went off prematurely in the flat where it was made. Berkman, accompanied by Becky Edelson, Charles Plunkitt and others, were hoisted out of Tarrytown, N. Y., where they went to defend the twelve I. W. W. persons who were arrested for the free speech demonstrations. It is said that the New York authorities may order immediate burial of the bodies and if this is done trouble may be averted.

Just as well adopt the role of King Canute and command the approaching tide to recede, as to stamp these incidents from woman. The sentiment of domesticity, of home-making, and the maternal instinct cannot be removed from her, whether she be the mate of a bush-whacker in Australia, or a clay-eater in the Carolinas, or a little mill girl in Lowell, Massachusetts. These qualities are part of human nature, and gentlemen, you cannot reckon without taking human nature into account, nature study, hygiene, the higher thought, mental therapeutics, high ideals, the Montessori method and eugenics to the contrary. "It can't be done," I suppose, also, it is but another phase of human nature that man ever should have something about which to worry. Now while I am not so young as I used to be, I am neither ancient nor rock-ribbed as the sun, yet I can well recall when that odious probrum, now happily obsolete, "old maid," was man's way of designating his unmarried female relatives and friends. She was quite the butt of his ridicule, because she had not married. How the times have changed! The same "old maid" still worries him—now because he chooses to think he has a formidable rival in the ball. Truly, I believe that when Adam gave up the rib and thereby started the feminist movement, the rib was replaced by a thorn which still wiggles playfully in the side of man when he considers the trend of feminism.

TAG DAY COMMITTEE

EXPRESSES THANKS TO ALL WHO ASSISTED IN MAKING TAG DAY A SUCCESS

The special committee on Tag Day conducted for the Salem sufferers issues the following expression of its thanks to all those who assisted in making the undertaking such a grand success:

We have the pleasure to announce that the work of the tag day committee is completed and the result far exceeds our expectations which result could never be accomplished were it not for the noble work of the ladies who had charge of the sale of tags. No language can convey our thanks to these noble women who worked from early morning until near the midnight hour to collect this money for the sufferers of the Salem disaster.

The same noble spirit that completed this work is still further displayed by those who attended to the severe duties at city hall, and who seek no credit for themselves for the work achieved. This only goes to prove what may be expected from the women of Lowell when the good name of our city is to be upheld. As the committee appointed by the committees of seventy we wish to thank each and every lady, chairman, secretary and treasurer and each down to the last one, that took part in this noble work that brought so much credit to our city and such relief to the Salem sufferers. We also wish to thank his honor, the mayor of our city for his untiring efforts in the work of tag day, being constantly on guard until midnight, attending to details. We desire to express our thanks to the Tobin Printing company who so kindly furnished the badges and tags free of charge, also the Mahoney Printing company, for favors the press for liberal space and to any and all who in any way helped to make this tag day a success.

The total amount collected amounted to $3205.57, expenses $48.50, making a net total of $3157.07.

We return our most sincere thanks, James O'Sullivan, William D. Brown, John H. Murphy, Tag Day Committee.

FIREPROOF FACTORIES

WILL BE ERECTED IN SALEM—WORK STARTED—POLICE TAKE OVER CONTROL OF CITY

SALEM, July 8.—Control of the fire-swept area and the refugee camps passed smoothly into the hands of the augmented city police last evening, when the militia were withdrawn, after serving since the evening of June 25.

Already the manufacturers are taking steps to rebuild and at a meeting yesterday received tentative plans for a big fireproof factory structure. Permits for two factories were granted by the city council.

The relief committee estimates $300,000 will be needed to rehabilitate all the burned-out families. At Forest River park last night 1900 persons were given rations.

The police department of 62 regular and reserve officers was augmented yesterday afternoon by qualifying 50 special officers, and it is thought they will be enough to handle the situation.

Col. Frank A. Graves, who was in command of the militia during the past 14 days, is generously praised for his efficient management. Among the 1500 men on service in Salem, there were only six occasions when it was necessary to resort to court-martials to punish offenders of military rules.

Regret is expressed by many of the citizens that all the state police have been withdrawn, as it is believed the presence of a few members would prove of benefit to the local police in dealing with confidence men and thieves.

Relief work at the state armory and other stations was conducted more satisfactorily yesterday than ever before. Assistance is being given with less red tape. The number of rations issued yesterday was considerably greater than Monday, and about equal to the number distributed June 28. The real sufferers are practically all known, however, to the committee under the direction of Col. John E. Spencer.

POLICE COURT SESSION

Liquor Case Heard — Woman Fined — Boy Who Stole Team Fined $75 — Other Cases

Mrs. Bridget Sullivan was arraigned on continuance before Judge Earle in police court this forenoon charged with unlawfully keeping and exposing for sale intoxicating liquors. She denied the charge and the case went to trial under a plea of not guilty.

According to the testimony of the officers who conducted the raid on Sunday, June 21, enough liquor was found to stock a small store and Mrs. Sullivan offered the defense that her boarders were heavy drinkers but this did not fully satisfy the court and the defendant was fined $75 and committed to the Lowell Jail for the term of one month. She appealed and was held in the sum of $200 for the superior court.

Officer Philip Murphy of the liquor squad was the first witness for the government and he stated that he watched the premises for several hours on Sunday forenoon, June 21, and saw a large number of persons enter or leave the house which is located at 159 Fletcher street. He said that when the raid was made on the following Sunday the officers found 46 bottles of whiskey, a quantity of beer, over 100 bottles of ale, besides about 250 empty bottles which were distributed about the house.

Mrs. Sullivan said part of the liquor found was hers and the rest belonged to lodgers. There are twenty rooms in the house and all but two occupied. She denied selling liquor.

In imposing the sentence the court remarked that he did believe the defendant was responsible for all of the liquor that was found on the premises but he was not satisfied with her explanation about the whiskey found in the attic and part of that in the kitchen.

John Keris pleaded not guilty to a complaint charging him with the larceny of $800 from a brother-in-law, Mrs. Sullivan, and at the request of the attorney for the government, J. Joseph O'Connor, the case was continued until Saturday for trial. Defendant was held in the sum of $100.

The complainant alleges that he drew $500 from a bank a short time ago believing that it would not be safer locked in a box in his room at 14 Auburn street. However last Thursday the money was missing and so was John Keris, who roomed in the same house, and as a result a complaint was made to the police. Monday evening the defendant was arrested in Lynn and brought to this city on the charge although he stoutly denies that he is the guilty party.

Lively Battle
There was a lively midnight battle near Davidson street last week when Catherine Nichols went to the home and variety store of one Mary Rainowski to collect the sum of 25 cents which the former claimed was owed to her and as a result Mary was brought before the court charged with assault and battery upon Catherine. John J. McElroy for the defendant and Daniel J. Donahue for the complainant.

What reason Catherine had in picking out the late hour to collect the bill was not made known but she stated that when she entered the defendant's apartments she was given a cool reception and when she asked for the money was kicked and punched several times, sustaining bruises about the face and arms. Each alleged that the other was intoxicated but the evidence of witnesses showed that the defendant did the striking and she was ordered to pay a fine of $20.

Francis X. Archambault, aged 19 years, was brought before the court on continuance charged with stealing a horse, wagon and harness valued at $125 from Frank Dinodana. The case was continued from Monday in the hope that some word would be heard from the defendant's parents in Montreal, but nothing was received and his Honor imposed a fine of $75.

Liquor Case
Frank Verrault, accused of illegally selling liquor on July 3, pleaded guilty and was fined $50, which he paid.

The case of William Merer, who it is alleged, stabbed a companion named Daniel P. Moriarty during an argument on July 4, was continued until tomorrow and defendant was held in the sum of $200.

Liberty Square Row
The row in Liberty square which occurred over a week ago was settled before Judge Pickman in the second session of court today. It will be remembered that the case was tried a week ago and this forenoon Attorneys Hogan and Tierney made their arguments. Nicholas Ayash, John Maris and Albert Shaheen were fined $5 each for disturbing the peace. Nicholas and Michael Ayash, accused of assault and battery upon John Maris, were found not guilty and discharged while Saide Ayash was fined $12 for assault and battery upon Maris Maris.

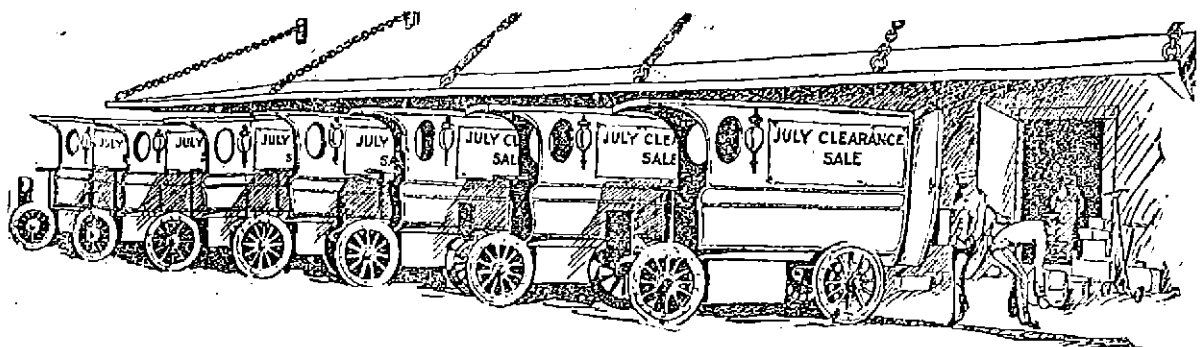

Dennis J. Mahoney, non-support, had his case continued until Saturday. One woman was sent to jail for three months for drunkenness while another was given a suspended sentence to Sherburne. An old timer was given a three months' sentence to the house of correction and a second offender was placed on probation for the term of six months.

AMERICAN WILD PIGEONS
ATHOL, July 8.—J. S. Billings, agent for the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, said today that he believed he had discovered some of the original species of passenger pigeons, long supposed to have been extinct. Within a few days he expects to know for a certainty.

Mr. Billings is an expert in breeding pigeons. About a week ago a pigeon which answers the description of the passenger, came to his loft. Mr. Billings coaxed it with grain and the next day it returned with a mate. Later there were six of them, which seemed to complete the lot. Careful study of them has convinced him that they are real American wild pigeons.

The American wild pigeon is said to have been one of the most beautiful and graceful birds on the continent. Its back was a variable blue and its neck was richly glossed with metallic golden violet and white. Years ago they swarmed by the billions but now are supposed to be extinct.

RETURNS FROM IRELAND SOLEMN SERVICES HELD

Humphrey O'Sullivan Arrived in Lowell Today—Has Letter of Thanks From Mr. Redmond At Funeral of Rev. H. S. Pinkham Pastor of First Baptist Church—Burial at Watertown

Humphrey O'Sullivan arrived in Lowell today from his visit to Ireland in the best of health and spirits and most enthusiastic over the prospects for the future of the old country.

While in Cork Mr. O'Sullivan read John Redmond's appeal to the Irish in America and immediately responded with the following letter to the Irish leader:

Victoria Hotel, Cork, June 25, '14.
Dear Mr. Redmond:
I have read the appeal which you have made to our race in America and I am anxious at once to respond to it.

HUMPHREY O'SULLIVAN

I am just now paying a visit to Ireland and I am impressed beyond measure at the strength and vitality of the Irish Volunteer movement. Your recognition of the movement and the practical and earnest support which you have given now make it incumbent on every Irishman in every part of the world to give prompt and practical assistance and I therefore enclose by check for 100 pounds. On my return to America I trust to be able to organize further assistance and to show that you have behind you the strength and fidelity of our race in the United States.

Yours faithfully,
Humphrey O'Sullivan.

In reply to Mr. O'Sullivan's letter, Hon. John E. Redmond sent the following:

Dear Mr. O'Sullivan:
I accept my heartfelt thanks for your letter and your generous contribution of 100 pounds toward the Irish Volunteers.
I trust that on your return visit you will find a thoroughly organized and armed force in existence.
Very truly yours,
John E. Redmond.

Humphrey O'Sullivan, 234 Victoria Hotel, Cork.
Mr. O'Sullivan says the organization of the volunteers in Ireland is a clever stroke and he bears a message from Mr. Redmond to the friends of Ireland in this country for united action in support of the volunteers until the home rule question is settled. The contribution of $500 was greatly appreciated by Mr. Redmond and other leaders.

PAVING JOB HELD UP

Continued
It was impossible to get a statement from Charles J. Morse, commissioner of streets and highways, this morning, inasmuch as he went away early in his automobile, with Mayor Murphy and Commissioners Brown and Donnelly.

The mayor's private secretary said he did not know where the mayor had gone but he didn't expect him back until late in the afternoon. Nobody connected with Mr. Brown's office knew of his whereabouts, but they said they did not expect him back today. At Mr. Donnelly's office it was stated that the commissioner was away for the day and it was the same story at Mr. Morse's office.

It remained for Commissioner Carmichael, the only remaining member of the municipal council, to throw some light on the subject and the colonel wasn't very sure about it. He guessed, however, that his colleagues had gone to Cambridge to find out how the application of civil service to city laborers operates in that city.

While these four gentlemen are looking into municipal affairs in the university city, taking it for granted that Mr. Carmichael's guess is correct, people are fairly standing on their heads in Lowell because of the holdup in Gorham street. It was stated this afternoon that unless the work was resumed with some show of vigor and earnestness tomorrow morning an indignation meeting would be held. Just how much good an indignation meeting would do is food for conjecture if nothing else.

There are a few men working in Gorham street today, but no cement is being used. The men are rooting out old blocks and making other blocks ready for the job. There wasn't anybody on the job today in a position to say anything as to the possible outcome of the situation. The strike board of arbitration didn't succeed in doing anything yesterday toward bringing the conflicting parties any closer together. The board sought to find a common ground on which parties to the trouble might meet and discuss the matter but they failed to discover the ground.

The funeral of Rev. Herman S. Pinkham, pastor of the First Baptist church, was held at the church this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. There was a very large attendance of the church members and other friends of the deceased. The services were conducted by Rev. J. E. Dinmore, assistant pastor, who read appropriate selections from the scriptures. Prayer was offered by Rev. C. H. Spaulding of Boston, a life-long friend and former pastor of Rev. Mr. Pinkham's father and mother. There were vocal selections by the church quartet, including "Nearer, My God, to Thee," "Face to Face," and "Crossing the Bar." Friends from all over town were present to lighten the sorrow of the bereaved family by words of consolation and beautiful floral tributes.

Delegations were present from the former parishes held by deceased, namely: Mt. Auburn, South Parish, Maine; Winter Hill and Washington, D. C. The interment was at Watertown, Mass., a former home of the deceased and a great many of those who attended the services at the First Baptist church made up a large procession who went over the road in automobiles as an escort to the body.

The pall bearers were the deacons of the church: Warren L. Floyd, Harry P. Stocks, Arthur French, F. A. Bowen, Mr. Buchanan, W. W. Buzzell and Craven Midgley. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Larkin T. Trail and William P. Sheppard. The ushers were F. J. Flemings, Robert Friend, George F. Wagner and James F. Flemings. Undertaker Geo. W. Healey had charge of the funeral and conducted the burial at Watertown.

It means considerable expense to me to put the car there, but I wanted to do what I could to help out the paving job. I cannot understand why there should be any hitch now. Our teamsters are not in any way connected with this particular car. The city teamsters and street employees in general are, as I understand it, mostly union men. In that event I do not see why they should refuse to handle the cement.

Mr. Morse said yesterday he was in hopes that the conference between the state board of conciliation and arbitration would result in some tangible understanding between the parties in question and inasmuch as the state board did not make any headway, Mr. Morse will have to take the reins in his own hands. It has been suggested that the mayor call a special meeting of the municipal council to take some action in the matter, but it is not Mr. Morse's first experience with men and unions and the chances are he will straighten matters out without the assistance of his brother members in the council. The straightening out process cannot come too quickly as the demand for Gorham street as a public thoroughfare is very great and not only that, but the people in the High Street are up in arms, too, over the Westford street job. If the holdup in Gorham street should continue for any considerable length of time, it would mean "good night" to the Westford street job and they can see the handwriting on the wall. Something has got to be done right away and Mr. Morse will certainly have the assistance of his brother members on the board and public support as well in any move that he may make toward the resumption of operations, in full, in Gorham street.

Flush and Post Hydrants
Flush hydrants are being taken out and post hydrants installed in several streets throughout the city. The flush hydrants have been in use for years and are pretty well worn out and, besides, the post hydrant is the up-to-date hydrant. Every year the department substitutes post hydrants for flush hydrants, but more post hydrants are being installed this year than for any preceding year.

OUTING TODAY
The annual outing of the members of the Children of Mary sodality of the Immaculate Conception church was held today at Silver Lake. The trip to the summer resort was made by special cars, which left East Merrimack street near the church at 8 o'clock this morning, and it was a most pleasant one.

Out-door amusements of all descriptions were enjoyed and a daisy dish-uter was served on the green. The clergyman present was the pastor, Rev. Lawrence F. Tighe, O. M. I., Rev. Fr. Sullivan, O. M. I., Rev. Fr. McQuaid, O. M. I. and Rev. Fr. McQuaid, O. M. I. The return trip will be made late this afternoon.

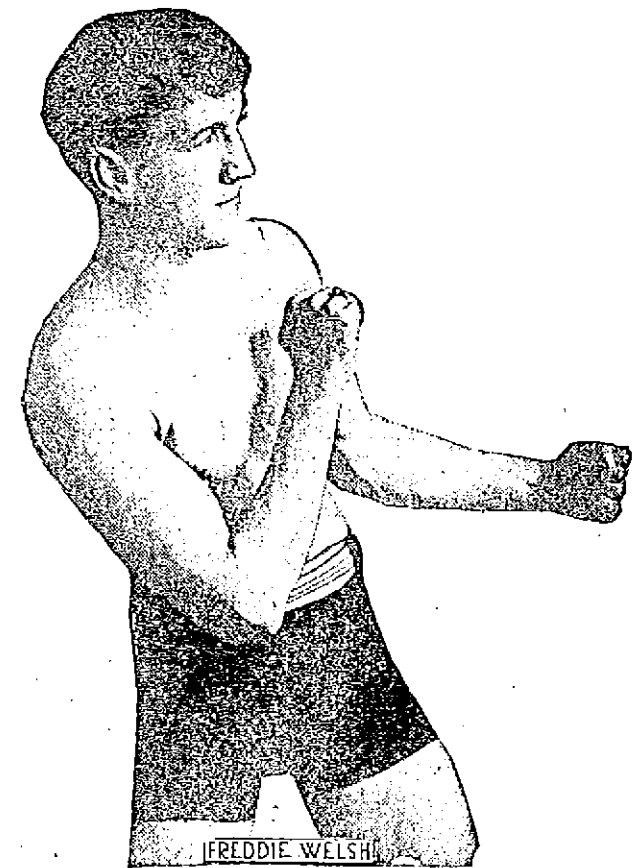

The boys and girls of the West Merrimack church Sunday school enjoyed a picnic at Lakeview today. The children, accompanied by their teachers, were conveyed to the park in electric cars and they spent a most enjoyable day.

2 MEN BLOWN TO ATOMS
EXPLOSION OF SEVERAL HUNDRED QUARTS OF NITRO GLYCERINE AT FINDLAY, O.
FINDLAY, O., July 8.—Charles Armstrong and P. H. Longabaugh, oil well shooters, were blown to atoms today by the explosion of several hundred quarts of nitro glycerine which they were taken to Buckland to shoot an oil well. Two children were knocked to the ground and severely injured; several houses nearby were wrecked and thousands of panes of glass in the vicinity were broken.

Boy Who Made Home Run Before the King
Looks Just the Same

Tommy Daly, last year the mainstay of the Lowell club behind the bat and now famous as the boy who made the home run drive over in England for the White Sox with King George as an interested fan, was in Lowell late yesterday afternoon having run up when the Red Sox-White Sox game was called off.

Tommy looks just the same as ever. He's the same pink checked youngster who was wont to pole them out for the locals last season and doesn't look a minute older in spite of his trip around the world with the party of big leaguers last winter.

Although Daly isn't playing regularly for Jimmy Callahan's club he is looked upon as a very promising young ball player who will be heard from beyond a doubt in the next couple of seasons. He is out with the club in practice every day and Callahan is gradually teaching him the fine points of the outfield.

There have been few ball players who earned their salaries by playing the home games at Spalding park who have left as many friends behind them when they left Lowell as did Tommy Daly. His quiet manner and ready smile under all conditions have gained him a large following among the local fans who are rooting for him to soon jump into a regular berth with the White Sox.

While Ritchie received, according to the most authentic reports, approximately $30,000 for his battle with Welsh. This is taking into account the motion picture bonus and what he made while training for the contest. Welsh was playing with the promoters on a percentage basis and did not fare nearly so well.

Probably the greatest lightweight battle ever waged on British soil between an American and an Englishman was for a purse of only $3500. This was the Kid Lavigne-Burge fight which Lavigne won by beating the title holder with his famous body punches.

A peculiar complication has arisen in the American bike game. Bobby Walcott has been suspended upon the allegations of a Bostonian pacemaker that Bobby owes $1000 for services rendered. The pro riders got together yesterday and passed a resolution not to enter any of the motor paced races where Walcott is barred. The outcome is not yet in sight. If the riders stick to their resolve and the owners of the various tracks will not lift the suspension cycle racing will certainly be at a premium.

The most potent question just now before the A. E. A. A. is "what is a novice?" The New England branch of the A. A. U. after coming to an indefinite decision has asked the New York officials for a ruling. The answer appears plain enough on the face of it for the rule in question states that a novice is an athlete who has not won a prize. Whether or not this applies to that particular event or to track and field events in general is where the controversy comes in.

There will be a big athletic meet in Lawrence next Saturday the receipts of which will be turned over to the Salem sufferers. The B. A. A. and Irish-American teams will be entered in the meet. None of the athletes will be given prizes.

The Lowell police team will play off their last game in the state league tomorrow when they go to Lynn and engage the cops of that town. This contest decides whether or not Lowell stands at the head of her division. Should the local guardians of peace and order win their standing will be perfect without a single defeat. The Lowell league will then play a series of three games for the police championship of the state.

"Say, you fellows must think you've got something on my club," said Jesse Burkett yesterday when Manager Gray told him to take his team out to the park. It was raining then but the local manager thought that the grounds would be in shape for a game. There were several bad holes around the diamond, however, and the game was postponed much to the disappointment of the Lowell players. "They certainly consider the Worcester team easy prey."

Seven Injured When Central Vermont Train Ran Into Washout

SHELDON, Vt., July 8.—Seven persons were injured, one seriously, and many passengers were shaken up and bruised when a Central Vermont train ran into a washout near Sheldon Springs last night.

The accident happened in what is known as Chadwick Cut. The roadbed had been washed away by a terrific rainstorm leaving a gully 20 feet deep below the tracks. The engine passed over before the track fell in but was derailed on the further side of the gap.

At the same instant the locomotive was derailed, the tracks gave way beneath the weight of the tender. The tender did not fall, however, as it was telescoped by the baggage car in such a way that it formed an arch spanning the gully.

The fireman was badly scalded and a small child named Bishop was painfully hurt. The engineer, baggage man and six passengers received minor injuries. All were taken to a hospital at St. Albans today.

SUM OF $1441 RECEIVED
FOR RENTAL OF LOTS ON THE SOUTH COMMON ON FOURTH—$100 MORE THAN LAST YEAR.

Supt. Kernan today reported that the sum of $1441 was received from rental of lots on the South common for the month of June. This is $100 more than last year and $250 more than in 1912. The Lowell midway on the Fourth is becoming famous.

Revenue For Licenses

According to the report of Clerk John J. Flaherty of the license commission, the total number of booths and stands on the South common on July 4 of this year was larger than ever before. The total revenue for licenses for the day was $156, as against $133 last year.

It cost the park department $175 to clean up the common after the Fourth and this amount will have to come out of the day's revenue. This brings up again the point raised by Mr. McKay at the meeting of the park board Monday night, to the effect that the money recovered for lots on the common should go toward defraying the park department's expenses rather than to turn it into the city treasury to be spent by other departments.

Freddie Welsh of Wales Wins the Title From Willie Ritchie of America in Fast Bout

LONDON, July 8.—Freddie Welsh, landed two straight rights on the face and a sharp uppercut. The American forced the fighting all through the round, Welsh slowing up considerably. It was a good round, all in favor of Ritchie.

The light took place at Olympia, and the 5000 spectators witnessed a fast and clever bout, in which rapid footwork and a good deal of lightning were pronounced. The British victory was cheered to the echo, although there was some dissatisfaction among the American spectators at the decision because neither man was bested at the finish. Although Welsh scored the greater number of blows, those of the American appeared to be the more telling.

It was a fine exhibition of boxing throughout. Neither man went to the floor and the struggle during the last six rounds was of a hurricane character. Welsh was the quicker man and tapped Ritchie repeatedly on the face, finally drawing blood. The American tried to continue for a knockout, but either he was short or Welsh got inside or under the swing.

The Fight by Rounds

Round 1—Welsh got in a few blows in the clinch. Ritchie replied with a straight to the jaw. Lightning followed, with Welsh getting the better of the argument. When they squared off, however, Ritchie delivered several body blows.

Round 2—Ritchie swung hard with his right and missed. He was cautioned by the referee for holding in the clinch. Welsh got in some vicious jabs in the clinching.

Round 4—Welsh fought for the clinch. In a clinch, he gave Ritchie two left hooks on the jaw, followed by a right swing on the same spot. Welsh appeared the fresher of the two, smiling when the gong sounded.

Round 5—Ritchie got on to the face, Welsh replying with a left to the jaw. Ritchie then sent a straight to the jaw and also a heavy body blow. Ritchie forced the fighting, but was repeatedly cautioned for holding.

Round 6—Ritchie's left eye seemed to be slightly swollen and Welsh's left eye was also damaged. Ritchie played for the bad eye. Welsh dodged a right-hand swing aimed at the bad eye. Welsh's footwork was much the quicker, but his blows seemed to have less steam than the American's.

Round 7—Half of the round had passed before Ritchie began forcing the fighting. He landed two smart blows on the face. Welsh responded, but the American covered up well and the round ended in his favor.

Round 9—Welsh forced the fighting, opening with a left to the face, an operation which he quickly repeated. Ritchie's blows continually falling short, while Welsh, setting a furious pace, got in several blows to the body and had the better of the fighting. This was Welsh's round.

Round 10—Welsh forced the fighting, scoring repeatedly on Ritchie's jaw. He then landed one of Ritchie's famous right-arm blows. Welsh had the better of the fight thus far.

Round 12—Welsh forced a left hook on Ritchie's neck. Ritchie repeatedly let out hard left-handers, but Welsh was always too quick for them. The Welshman scored three or four punches in this round, but they seemed to make no impression on the American, who showed great stamina.

Round 13—Ritchie smartened up and

BIG BASEBALL TRADE

CINCINNATI, July 8.—Following a lengthy conference with President Herrmann yesterday, Manager Herzog of the Reds announced that he has completed a deal that will bring four or five new players to Cincinnati and the team, next Saturday or Sunday, will take the field with an almost complete change in lineup.

While Herzog would not mention the names of the players involved in the deal on either side, it is known that two Giants at least, and perhaps one or two more will be perhaps chased around in Red uniforms, while a like number of Red players will be drawing salary from the New York club.

In baseball circles yesterday it was stated that Dick Hoblitzell, first baseman, Johnnie Bates, outfielder of the Reds, and Armand Marsans, crack outfielder, the latter whom the Reds joined from playing with the St. Louis Federal, will be traded for Snodgrass and Murray of the Giants. It is also stated that a New York pitcher will come to Cincinnati.

Several days ago Marsans announced that he would play with no other team than the Giants.

CRUISE BACK TO YANKEES

NEW YORK, July 8.—The New York American league club yesterday completed a deal by which "Birdie" Cree, for years the star left fielder of the club, was purchased from the Baltimore International. Cree was sold to Baltimore last winter. He had a poor season in 1913 after breaking an arm in 1912. His work with Baltimore was so good that Chance decided to recall him.

BOUGHT BY CINCINNATI

BALTIMORE, July 8.—While Jack Dunn will not admit it, deals have been practically consummated by which Shortstop Claude Derrick and Outfielder George Tumbleby of the Orioles will soon be wearing Cincinnati uniforms.

EXPECTS EXONERATION

Mrs. Angie Believes She Will Be Absolved in the Ballou Case in Stamford, Conn.

STAMFORD, Conn., July 8.—That Mrs. Helen M. Angie expects Coroner Phelps to exonerate her when he resumes his inquest in the death of Waldo B. Ballou was apparent yesterday in a remark she made to the police. Mrs. Angie said: "I am stronger and contented now," she said, "and I hope the coroner will finish his inquest soon. I want my exoneration to be complete and I expect to be able to leave here when he finishes the inquest."

LOW MORTALITY RATE

Record for June in Providence Unsurpassed by Any Month in Its History Except January, 1903

PROVIDENCE, July 8.—The mortality rate of this city for June was the lowest for that month in the history of the city, and with the exception of January, 1903, the lowest ever recorded. The June record was 11.53 per 1000 people, or 212 deaths in an estimated population of 24,542. Health department officials said yesterday that the record is remarkable, but are unable to attribute it to any particular cause.

WASHER TO SEE WILSON

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Governor Walsh of Massachusetts will call on President Wilson today to urge him to use his influence to get congress to appropriate $200,000 for the relief of the Irish fire sufferers.

Despite the action of the house appropriations committee in refusing to approve the request, Governor Walsh has hopes that congress can be induced to make the appropriation.

He will be accompanied by the White House by Rep. Gardner.

FOR THE GARDEN PARTY

A large number of the members of St. Columba's church met in the parish hall last evening to make arrangements for the annual garden party. Mr. Andrew Molloy was chosen chairman. Mrs. John Monahan head of the St. Columba's church, and Miss Elizabeth Murphy in charge of the candy table. A whist party in aid of the refreshment table will be held on the church grounds tomorrow evening.

Dr. and Mrs. Wade Near Collapse—Poisoned Boy is Holding His Own at Chicago

MANUFACTURER ENDS LIFE

MERIDEN, Conn., July 8.—Philip J. Handel, head of the P. J. Handel company, makers of art lamp shades, shot himself with fatal effect yesterday while in the garage connected with the plant. He left a note, and from its wording the medical examiner formed an opinion that Handel was suffering from temporary mental depression. His associates, however, say he had been in excellent health and spirits and was arranging to leave with Mrs. Handel for Montana next Monday to visit a brother. Mr. Handel was 48 years of age.

TO CONFER IN MEXICO

Proposed Conference Between Huerta's Envoys and Constitutional Delegates

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Mexican territory probably will be chosen for the scene of the proposed conference between Huerta's envoys and constitutional delegates over plans for the establishment of a provisional government. Constitutional representatives in Washington today expressed preference for a neutral place in Mexico—probably along the border for the peace talks. Two of the Niagara mediators, Ambassadors De Gama and Minister Suarez, were in confer in New York today over details of the meeting.

With dissension among the constitutional leaders seemingly near adjustment, members of the revolution, by June here repeated expressions of confidence that the proposed Huerta-Carranza conference would take place. While the constitutional agents here have not determined on any particular place for the meeting they wish to divorce the proposed conferences from any relation to the Niagara mediation proceedings so that the Mexicans can people may thoroughly understand the method by which their new chief executive is agreed on.

LA PAZ ON STEAMER
ON BOARD U. S. S. CALIFORNIA, LAZARUS, July 7, via wireless to San Diego, Cal., July 8.—Governor Amador Carranza is on board the steamer Corrientes bound for Santa Rosa. The reason for his departure is not known. Carrying as passengers five Mexican sailors, rescued in recent fighting between the federal and constitutional forces the cruiser Denver left Mazatlan today for San Francisco. The Mexicans will be interned in one of the military prison camps along the border.

PARDONED BY PRESIDENT
Death here today of John T. Mack, a notable figure in Ohio Journalism. Mr. Mack, who was the editor and principal owner of the Sandusky Register, served for a quarter of a century as president of the Ohio Associated Editors, an organization of news publishers of the republican party, though he never sought office for himself. He was 63 years old.

SPOPEE, BLACKFOOT INDIAN, IS ON HIS WAY TO BROWNING, MONT.
WASHINGTON, July 8.—Free after imprisonment of nearly a third of a century among lunatics, Spoepe, a Blackfoot Indian, was on his way today from the government hospital for the insane to his reservation in Montana. In the care of an Indian boy, Browning, Spoepe was to go direct to Browning, Mont., where Commissioner Sells has promised that he will have a "square deal."

The Blackfoot was pardoned by President Wilson after persistent efforts of Commissioner Sells, who determined that Spoepe's mind was unimpaired. Spoepe was convicted of the murder of a white man in Montana in 1879.

While it was contended in efforts aimed to gain his pardon that he shot in self-defense, yet his friends took a position that his long imprisonment among the insane was more than enough punishment for any offense. The Indian, now 65 years old, looked to his future with the enthusiasm of a youth.

BOMB EXPLOSION IN WAKEFIELD

Dastardly Attempt to Destroy Home and Family of Richard S. Stout of Heywood Brothers & Wakefield Co.'s Factory Recently Closed by Strike—Infernal Machine Exploded in Kitchen—Police Find no Clue to Perpetrators

Anarchy lifts its head in Massachusetts as appears in the attempt early this morning to wreck the home of Richard S. Stout, superintendent of the cane department at the factory of Heywood Brothers & Wakefield Co., at Wakefield. The outrage shows that the anarchistic element takes advantage of labor strikes to carry on its nefarious business for the subversion of law and organized society. The act calls for the greatest activity of the state police and rigorous measures to drive out the anarchists in whatever guise they may appear.

WAKEFIELD, July 8.—Investigation of the partial wrecking of the home of Richard S. Stout on Bonnett street by a bomb thrown through the kitchen window early today has been started by the police but with few clues to work on.

The police believe that the explanation of the attack on Mr. Stout was to be found in the fact that he partially reopened the cane-splitting department of the Heywood Bros. & Wakefield Co. which had been closed because of a strike. Mr. Stout is foreman of the cane splitting department and the arrival of a shipment of material about a week ago necessitated employment of about 20 men by him.

The explosion occurred shortly before 2 p. m. William J. Stout, a son, who was aroused by the sound of breaking glass, awakened his father and another son, George Stout. While the three listened for further sounds of the supposed burglar there was a sudden explosion which shook the house, sent pictures and bric-a-brac smashing to the floor and blew out many of the Charges Made for His Removal

From Office

The following is a copy of the motion for specifications filed by F. D. Dunbar and E. J. Tierney, counsel for Newell F. Putnam in the case having to do with his removal from the position of superintendent of streets as requested by the commissioner of streets and highways:

And now comes Newell F. Putnam, superintendent of streets, and respectfully moves as follows:

1. That the municipal council specify more particularly wherein said Putnam's removal from the office of superintendent of streets of the city of Lowell is for the good of the public service.
2. That the municipal council specify more particularly wherein and when said Newell F. Putnam knowingly and without right sold $3,225 paving blocks belonging to the city of Lowell to the Boston and Northern Street Railway company and caused the payment therefor to be diverted from the general treasury to the credit of the appropriation for the street department.
3. That the municipal council specify in what respect and particular the government of 1914 is embarrassed because of any attempt on the part of the said Newell F. Putnam to purchase materials and supplies during 1910 and 1911 and that the municipal council specify what materials it claims were purchased from the New England Road Machinery company and from the Good Roads Machinery company.

4. That the municipal council specify in what respect the said Newell F. Putnam did unreasonable and without cause fail to take the benefits of the provisions contained in a certain contract entered into by J. Walter Bowers and the said city of Lowell.

Municipal Employees Union Siding

—Contract Work May be Intro-

The paving work in Gorham street is still being held up because of the Coal Teamsters' strike, the street department men, members of the municipal employees' union and the city teamsters' union refusing to handle the cement. The public in general is very much incensed over the attitude of the men connected with the municipal unions. It was stated today that the present difficulty would probably result in city work being let out by contract and men familiar with the situation declare that contract work would mean a big saving to the city.

Putnam as superintendent of streets is not for the best interests of the city of Lowell and that the municipal council specify when and to whom it claims the said Newell F. Putnam sold three hundred thousand ($300,000) paving blocks and the amount of the financial loss which the municipal council claims said act caused the city of Lowell.

6. That the municipal council specify wherein and for what reasons and because of what events the commissioner of streets has not the necessary confidence in and reliance upon the judgment and ability of said Newell F. IN FAVOR OF ANNEXATION

Reason Why Part of Dracut Should be Annexed—Residents Get Little for High Taxes Paid

The editorial in The Sun Monday night in relation to annexation has got some of the townspeople talking. said a prominent citizen of Dracut to the writer yesterday. And you can safely state in your paper that unless the so much-talked about electric lights on the state boulevard between the city line and Belle Grove are installed within a short time, a movement of some kind will be started among the residents of that district and inasmuch as annexation has been the topic of discussion on several occasions in that locality it is very probable that the men will get to work and push the matter along.

As a matter of fact an annexation movement was agitated in Kenwood, Brookside and Belle Grove a few years ago when the 15-cent-a-year policy was adopted by the citizens of the town. The residents along the river road felt at that time that the increased tax rate was a burden upon them which had no right to

Some people have a tendency to become thin-blooded just as others have an inherited tendency to rheumatism, or to nervous disorders. The condition in which the blood becomes so thin that the whole body suffers comes on so gradually and stealthily that anyone with a natural disposition to that direction should watch the symptoms carefully. Headlessness, or anamia, as the medical term is, can be corrected much more easily in the earlier stages than later. It begins with a tired feeling that rest does not overcome, the complexion becomes pale, and breathlessness on slight exertion, such as going up stairs, is noticed.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a home remedy that has been most successful in the treatment of diseases caused by thin blood. With pure air and wholesome food these blood-making pills afford the correct treatment when the symptoms described are noticed. A former sufferer from anamia says: "I was emaciated and did not have a particle of color. I had severe headaches, had no ambition and could just drag around." Dr. Williams' Pink Pills quickly restored appetite, flesh and health. A full statement of this case with directions regarding diet will be found in the booklet, "Building Up the Blood," sent free by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

some faculty will occur on the road. Within the past few weeks there have been two automobile accidents on the road and it is almost a miracle that no lives were lost, and both accidents are due to the fact that the road is not lighted. Automobiles by the hundred go up and down the road and some at a very high rate of speed and pedestrians who wish to board electric cars are constantly in danger.

For one, favor annexing Brookside, Kenwood, Brookside and Belle Grove to Lowell and I know of many who favor the project. By Lowell taking this part of the town, sewerage would be put in, the water mains would be extended and the district would be thoroughly protected in case of fire, and it is safe to assume that the state road would be properly lighted.

Last year's tax rate in Dracut was $23.00 per thousand and this year it may drop to $22, and some have hopes that within a few years it will drop to a normal rate that is about $15 or $20 per thousand, but even at that rate we would be paying as high as the citizens of Lowell and more too, and we would not receive half the benefits we would get if we were annexed to Lowell. The district is composed of city people who are living in city homes but who are not receiving the many advantages enjoyed by residents of Lowell. There is practically no farming done in that part of Dracut and were the district annexed to Lowell, it is possible that manufacturing concerns would locate themselves along the shores of the Merrimack river, where there is plenty of good land available and the beneficiaries would be the residents of the locality.

The speaker reviewed the doings of the town during the past ten or twelve years and admitted that the town is practically out of debt. He said the schools are nearly all paid for and there is little outstanding debt. He said during the past ten or twelve years the town has paid off an outstanding debt of $47,000 and has taken care of its running expenses, but the taxpayers were murdered and there is really nothing to show outside of a few school buildings. Some say that the tax rate will drop to a normal figure and they give as a reason for the high jump that the road work which has been neglected for the past twenty years, has been done during the past 2 or 3 years. Now if during the past twenty years with a tax rate of $18 we were not able to keep up the good condition of our roads, how are we going to do it in the future? I feel that the tax rate may drop for a year or so, but it is bound to rise again and, therefore, the best thing we can do is to annex at least the Belle Grove district to Lowell. The Navy Yard with its mills would also be greatly benefited by annexation.

BOSTON, July 8.—Warmer weather, with sunny spells interspersed with showers, is the best guess of the weather man for the next few days. This means that yesterday, which, though damp and chilly, was below the average for the time of year, was nevertheless not a record for cold by six degrees, and marked the turning point of the dismal spell that has characterized the past week.

Nothing like a hot wave, however, is in sight. Nor are there any storms on the horizon. The low record yesterday was 57 degrees, that being the figure at which the thermometer hovered much of the early morning. This is 10 degrees lower than the coldest a year ago, and compares with a low of 55 in 1905, and a record low of 51 in 1888. Yesterday's high record was 69, at 2 p. m., while a year ago the thermometer shot up to 83 in the shade.

The first week in July has had a larger rainfall than the entire month of June, bringing contentment to exasperated truck farmers and horticulturists, and new life to scorched lawns. The rain fell for July 1, was .07 of an inch, for July 2, 1.04, for the 3rd, .25, for the 4th, .25, for the 5th, .25, for the 6th, .25, for the 7th, .25, for the 8th, .25, for the 9th, .25, for the 10th, .25, for the 11th, .25, for the 12th, .25, for the 13th, .25, for the 14th, .25, for the 15th, .25, for the 16th, .25, for the 17th, .25, for the 18th, .25, for the 19th, .25, for the 20th, .25, for the 21st, .25, for the 22nd, .25, for the 23rd, .25, for the 24th, .25, for the 25th, .25, for the 26th, .25, for the 27th, .25, for the 28th, .25, for the 29th, .25, for the 30th, .25, for the 31st, .25.

APHASIA VICTIM
HAVERHILL, July 7.—Miss Florence Stanley, a sister of Maria Stanley, was surprised today by the news of the supposed identification of the aphasia victim at the Boston hospital. Dr. H. W. Watson, with whom the sister lives, started at once for Boston to determine whether the patient is really the Worcester teacher.

LEGISLATURE ADJOURNS

Many Important Measures Were Crowded Into Last Hours—
Mock Session at Close

BOSTON, July 8.—Gov. Walsh proceeded the great and general court shortly before midnight.

Both branches had been in session since 10:30 in the morning and for all of the merrymaking which enlivened the closing hours a tired set of men stepped out of the building.
It was a day of fast and furious legislation. At the opening both house and senate had weighty calendars and the burdens were further increased.
Gov. Walsh sent two last hour messages, one calling for legislation to allow the state to reassess upon the corporations interested in the cost of the public service commission which is now borne by the state, and another to allow the port directors authority to prepare a site for the city of Boston in the Fort Point channel for the high pressure fire station.

The public service commission act was thrown out the window with little ceremony. The Boston act was rushed through in an hour and signed by the governor.

A state tax of $750,000 was declared for the year 1914, an increase of three-quarters of a million over the rate of last year. Gov. Walsh felt a tax of eight and one-half millions could be fixed but he accepted the word from the auditing department and agreed to the larger figure.

Important Bills Passed
At 5 o'clock proclamation was the goal which the officials first aimed at. When that hour was reached the exercises were as far away as ever. For nearly four hours the men sat waiting and hoping for the end.

The day was marked by attempts to kill three important pieces of legislation—the metropolitan fire hazard bill, which was only pulled out of the water by ex-Mayor Fitzgerald at the last moment, and the bills for the reorganization of the state boards of insolvency and health. In the end the three measures were saved and sent up.

For all of the time taken, the house was not able to clear its score. The barbers' licensing bill was reported lost at the last moment. There had been a committee on conference on the measure, which had disagreed, but the disagreement report could not be found.
The legally even of the conference was considered in doubt. The speaker and Clerk Kimball finally decided to proceed without it. Mr. Abbott of Harvard, a member of the conference committee, was on hand, but could not help.

New Board of Insolvency
The last hour attempt of Senator Doyle of New Bedford to stop the governor's bill for the reorganization of the state board of insolvency ended in a fiasco. The motion of the senator for reconsideration was defeated, 6 to 12. Inasmuch as the measure had been enacted in the house, it was at once sent to the governor, who signed it.

The enactment of the bill for the reorganization of the state board of health, also favored by the governor, was not so easily accomplished. It lost the house by a margin of four to one, but through a reorganization bill providing for a paid health commissioner to be the executive officer of the state. The senate ways and means made a number of important changes in the bill. It left the reorganization machinery in the hands of the house measure, but eliminated three sections conferring special powers on the new health commissioner and his medical council.

Senator Bazeley succeeded in adding an amendment to the new measure providing the district health officers shall be members of an incorporated medical school. Senator Cox of Malden secured an amendment to provide for the protection of present employees.

Dr. Bigelow of Framingham defended it, and told the members that save for the elimination of certain sections regarding powers, the bill was as first framed. He said the governor approved it.

Mr. White of Newton warned the republicans of the danger of an ill-nod attempt to kill the measure and it was finally enacted as amended by the senate and transmitted to the governor.

Ends Party Enrollment
The bill for the abolition of party enrollment was put through, and contrary to the plans of some of the democratic as well as republican leaders.

When it was called in the senate the question was on the substitution for the house bill of a new creation formulated by the ways and means committee. The new bill did away with party enrollment as now understood, but provided for a return to the old system of party caucuses to be held different nights.

In the house the bill was enacted, 157 to 58, on a roll call.

The metropolitan fire hazard bill was saved at the last moment. A special committee of the chamber of commerce, ex-Mayor Fitzgerald and two conference committees were required, but the work was successful.

The trouble came when in the senate an amendment offered by Senator Fisher was adopted making the acceptance of the act optional with the various cities and towns in the metropolitan district. The vote was 13 to 17. Senator Dean had this acceptance provision modified slightly, but the friends of the bill appreciated that with Lynch and other cities fighting the bill with this amendment was as good as dead.

All through the afternoon session senators in favor of the original bill sought to kill the amendment, but without success. When the measure reached the house it was still carrying the rider. This the house refused to accept, and a conference committee was appointed. The senate would not recede. Then a second conference committee was appointed. Ex-Mayor Fitzgerald and the chamber of commerce people having arrived, the senate agreed to recede and the bill was sent along.

Two Recess Committees
The legislature provided for two recess committees. One is to study city charters to report a standard form. The other is to study legislative procedure with the idea of hastening business.

The latter committee project was given a start by reason of an order introduced by Senator Gordon to limit the senators to 15 bills in a year, and the representatives to five. The senate adopted it, but it was killed by the house. Directly following, both branches agreed to the special recess committee.

An order to allow extra mileage money for the western members of the legislature was killed in the senate by refusal to suspend the rules for its admission.

A new bill to amend the narcotics laws was put through both branches in a hurry. It was made necessary by the discovery that under the law signed last week the sale of opium was legalized till Jan. 1, 1915, when the general measure takes effect. The new bill provides the original measure shall take effect at once.

The opportunity for this "musical and literary" program arose because there wasn't enough serious business to require a continuous regular session. Whenever there was a recess the "talent" were thrust forward and invited to entertain the members.

Before the lighter members were offered there came the formal presentation of a vote of thanks to Speaker Grafton D. Cushing. Resolutions expressive of the gratitude of the members for his faithful and impartial administration of his duties were adopted by a rising vote. Mr. Tague of Charlestown, in behalf of the members, presented the speaker a set of books.
George P. Webster of Roxford endorsed
Mr. Tague's sentiments.

"Chain Gang" Gets to Work
Mr. Cox then paid a tribute to the efficiency and faithfulness of the clerical force and in behalf of the members presented Clerk James Kimball, Assistant Clerk Frank E. Bridgman and their assistants substantial tokens with which to remember the house of 1914.

Sergeant-at-Arms Thomas F. Pedrick and his assistants were also remembered. Mr. Haines of Medford making the presentation speech.

Chaplain Daniel W. Waldron was invited to address the house and was given a set of books, amid great applause. Mr. Briggs of Lexington made the presentation speech.

Mr. Beck of Chelsea was made "speaker" of the mock session. He immediately appointed a "chain gang," with Mr. Robinson of Ward 8 as "sergeant." They were policemen's helmets and did much "strong arm" work in gathering people to attend the house.

See Imitations of Themselves
George H. Curran of Boston, the one member of the house identified with the theatrical profession, arranged a program made up of vaudeville performers now appearing at local theatres.

"Speaker" Beck made the "chain gang" round up all on whom they could lay hands. There was a tumult of cheers when Ex-Mayor John P.

Fitzgerald was put up on the speaker's desk and compelled to sing "Sweet Adeline." Counselor Alexander Mc-Graw was forced to tell a story.
Others "kidnapped" were John F.
McNeely, private secretary to Governor
Wich, Calvin Coolidge of the senate,
John A. Sullivan, Ex-Representative
"Bill" Newton and Representative
Dagshaw of Fall River.

WASHINGTON STAR HOPES CON-GRESS WILL YET GRANT THE $200,000 ASKED FOR BY SALEM

WASHINGTON, July 8.—The Washington Star last night in a pointed editorial censured the appropriation committee of the house for its failure to act favorably on a Congressman Gardner's resolution, and calls on congress to reconsider the decision. It says:

"The refusal of the house appropriations committee, to recommend the passage of an emergency bill putting $200,000 at the disposal of the governor of Massachusetts for the relief of the people of fire-stricken Salem is a sad surprise. In view of the president's urgent appeal for such action.

"It is stated that members of the committee held that the request was without precedent and therefore it should not be granted. By this time congress has had abundant reason to recognize that the president makes his own precedents. But whether unusual or otherwise, the appropriation should have been granted without hesitation.
That there is pressing need of help at Salem is attested by the governor's statement to the president and by the latter's endorsement.

"The federal funds can be used to no better advantage than to succor stricken humanity. It is not too late to reconsider the decision.

BRIDE FOOLED PARENTS

ROCKLAND GIRL ELOPED AND WAS MARRIED BEFORE TAKEN ABROAD BY MOTHER

ROCKLAND, July 8.—An elopement which has stirred Rockland social circles came to light yesterday when a marriage license naming Miss Ethel P.
Woodward, daughter of a wealthy Rockland business man, and Earle P.
Thompson, a musician in a Rockland moving picture house, was delivered to Rockland from Seabrook, N. H., where the couple were married June 13 by the Rev. John W. Savage.

The bride sailed for Europe June 16, accompanied by her mother, Mrs.
George A. Woodward, and her sister, Miss Marion Woodward. Mrs. Woodward obtained the match between her daughter and Thompson, a Seabrook boy, their friendship was becoming too serious, decided to have her daughter spend the summer abroad.

When the couple were informed of this they decided to elope. They went to Seabrook and were married.
The bride's parents do not know of the marriage as yet. The bride, her mother and sister are now in Kilharney, Ire. Mr. Woodward has arranged to meet them in London in the latter part of August.

Mrs. E. S. Thompson, the bridegroom's mother, was not greatly surprised when she was told of her son's marriage. She said she became suspicious recently when she found a letter in her son's room addressed "To my dear wife."

The bride's father is treasurer of the Rockland Webbing company. The bride is a graduate of the Rockland high school, '10. She is also a musician.

The Thompsons came to Rockland three years ago and have since been running a moving picture house.

THE IRISH VOLUNTEERS MINIMUM WAGE HEARING

Provisional Committee Opposes

Redmond's Leadership But

Must Retire

At City Hall Last Night Attended

by But One Man and His Wife

Together With Reporters

The Irish volunteer movement grows apace. There is now real danger of civil war as the Ulster men cannot safely carry on any swagging without risk of meeting their opponents in sufficient numbers to satisfy Mr.
Caton, who had been spilling for a light until the Irish nationalists took steps to accommodate him.

The Ulster volunteers are divided as to the right policy to be pursued, some claiming that a provisional government should be elected at once, while the more moderate hold that resistance will be time enough when the home rule bill takes effect. In the nationalist volunteers there is a small faction opposed to giving Mr.
Redmond and the parliamentary party control of the volunteers.

Mr. Redmond, however, has given notice that he will call upon the counties to elect representatives to govern the volunteers. The provisional committee wants the counties to send delegates to the central body so that it would still be able to hold the balance of power.

The men of the provisional committee are largely unknown and cannot therefore command the confidence of Ireland. They are men who have been opposed to Mr. Redmond for years and now they try to get control of an organization that is not confined to any one creed or any party.

The chief military commanders are Col. Michael Moore, who commanded the Connaught Rangers in the Boer war, and Capt. Willie, a son of the Gen. Willie who defected to the republicans. They are not confined to Ireland. They are men who have been opposed to Mr. Redmond for years and now they try to get control
of an organization that is not confined to any one creed or any party.

Mr. Redmond sent the following reply
by cable:

"Philadelphia, June 21, 1914. Redmond, Parliament House, London:
All needed money for fighting Liberty-loving America, practically unanimous in approval of your leadership. Tory contention inhibited to 20th century spirit and defeat certain. This is an era of awakened democracy."

The call for the meeting is issued by Michael J. Ryan, T. B. Fitzpatrick and Michael J. Jordan, the national officers of the United Irish League in America. It will be held in New York.

Mr. Ryan has also sent an appeal to the Irish World and friends who have held up the hands of Mr. Redmond and the Irish Parliamentary party during these last 15 years. It is of course, a collection on the common sense of the Irish people to think that they will now entrust their confidence to those men in America, who for the past 15 years, at least, have done their utmost to cripple the Irish movement; who have left no words unuttered that would vilify Irish leadership, and have insulted at nothing calculated to check the onward movement of the Irish people. Any campaign under their auspices would be doomed to certain failure.

"Speaking as I know Mr. Redmond would be here, and speaking as I know I do for the Irish race in the United States, I ask you to appeal to all our scattered kindred wherever your great formal utterances, and I respectfully request you to throw open your columns and invite subscriptions."

The money that may be subscribed will be remitted by bank to our national treasurer, T. B. Fitzpatrick, of Boston, and, without the deduction of a share penny for any service of any kind be any national officer, will be instantly transmitted to the organization of Ireland, to be spent for the purposes for which it was contributed and without diminution of any kind, namely, to exalt the cause of Ireland, to ennoble the Irish name and Irish character, and to make certain Irish liberty."

With the volunteers under the control of Mr. Redmond, they will be used wisely for Ireland's good and the new volunteers will remain in existence as a body ready to respond to a call to home rule should any future industry attempt to repeal the act.

The meeting called by the minimum wage commission last night at city hall was not very well attended because, perhaps, it was not properly advertised. Only one member of the commission, Miss Mabel Gillespie, put in an appearance, and despite the fact that she had but two, one man and one woman, for an audience, she went through with her little story just the same. Miss Gillespie is secretary of the Women's Trade Union League of Boston. The other two members of the commission are H. LaRue Brown, a Boston lawyer, and Arthur N. Holcomb, a professor at Harvard.

The purpose of the meeting was to gather information concerning wages paid locally to female workers in laun-dries; to ascertain if the wages paid them are adequate to supply the necessary cost of living and to maintain the worker in health. The commission has held meetings in other cities and Miss Gillespie said that most of the meetings have been very well attended. All of the meetings, however, did not have to do with laundry workers.

To the one woman who appeared last night, accompanied by her husband, Miss Gillespie explained the plan adopted by the commission to establish a wage board for the laundry industry; this board to consist of six representatives of the laundry workers, six employers and one or more disinterested persons to represent the public; the representatives of the public not to exceed one-half of the number of members of either of the other parties.

Nominations of representatives of the laundry workers for places on the wage board are to be made, said Miss Gillespie, at meetings of the female laundry workers. The choice of these members is made from the submitted list of names.

She said it had been quite definitely established that the women workers in laundries are frequently underpaid, and the idea of a wage board is to arrive at a minimum wage which shall suffice to support a person in health.

The wage board having nothing to do with a wage transmits its findings to the minimum wage commission and this finding is then subject to review either for approval or disapproval of the commission. Where the employers are found to pay less than the amount believed to be a sufficient minimum wage, the commission has the power to subvise the facts, as it may find them to be, as to the acceptance of recommendations by the employers engaged in the industry to which any of its recommendations relate, and may publish the names of employers whom it finds to be following or refusing to follow recommendations.

Miss Gillespie admitted last night that the meeting would probably have been much more successful had it been properly advertised in the daily papers, but she said that the legislature had not the commission's appropriation in two and the commission, she said, couldn't afford to advertise. Each commissioner, however, received $10 a day for each day's service, in addition to the traveling and other expenses incurred in the performance of official duties. Miss Gillespie said that notices of the meeting had been sent to Lowell to be posted in the laundries. The commission, however, cannot oblige laundry to post the notices and inasmuch as it is not obligatory Miss Gillespie allowed that in many instances the notices were consigned to the waste basket.

LADY LOOKABOUT

Have you seen that tiny monkey going about the streets with his master, an organ-grinder? He is the most cunning little animal I have ever seen. To say that he is almost human does not half describe him. It is interesting to look about in the crowd he attracts. The street urchin of course is always there in large numbers, but I have been amused at some of the others. More than once, I have seen persons of great dignity and high standing in our city, pause and watch the antics of the little simian. Now I am not going to be flippant and comment on the descent of man. Rather, I am going to say that I like to see these men forget their cares for the moment, and I am sure, that could we analyze them, their thoughts would not be greatly unlike those of the street urchin—for after all, what are men but boys grown up, much older and much more tired.

The Habitual Receptacles

A few days ago I found myself on Merrimack street with a piece of wrapping paper which I did not wish to carry around and which I did not care to throw into the street. I carried it until I reached the square before the city hall, where I found a receptacle. These receptacles, while not particularly beautiful, to an outlook, are greatly to be preferred to littered streets, and I am sure they are not expensive. Why not have more of these placed in convenient places on our city streets? If the city cannot stand the expense of them, it would be a very worthy cause for the Middlesex Women's club to take up and finance.

The Tag Day Ladies

Great credit is due the ladies who made such a success of Tag Day. Any one who thinks that the city cannot stand the expense of them, it would be a very worthy cause for the Middlesex Women's club to take up and finance. The ladies who made such a success of Tag Day. Any one who thinks that the city cannot stand the expense of them, it would be a very worthy cause for the Middlesex Women's club to take up and finance.

Safety First

"Safety first" is the slogan of the day. It has replaced the well-known "Stop, Look, Listen" of railroad-crossing fame. I like it better. It urges each of us to use care toward our neighbor rather than to be forever on the defensive, as the old mandate suggests. Already, since this slogan has been adopted, there is a noticeable decrease of accidents in connection with street and railway, as compared to the figures of a year ago. Many accidents are not due to carelessness or negligence on the part of operators or drivers of conveyances and vehicles, as they are to the extremely careless conduct of passengers and pedestrians. It is a rare sight to see a man wait until a street car comes to a full stop before he alights, and yet if he trips and falls, or is injured in any way during the process of alighting, he is sure to blame the operating company and to bring suit for damages accordingly. Take a street crossing for example. Almost no one takes the trouble to look either way before crossing, and it is due only to a kind Providence and an acquired skill in getting out of the way, that there are not more accidents. With all due respect to my sex, a woman is the most erratic of creatures when she finds herself in the path of an approaching automobile. Personally, I would prefer to meet a flock of hens (and they are accounted as brainless as it is possible to be), to one woman in the path of an automobile, with two possible avenues of escape open to her. Invariably she stands stock still until she ascertains which way the machine is going to proceed, then she makes for the same direction, the perspiration of indecision and indignation. With the "safety first" thought uppermost in the mind of each and everyone of us, I am sure the number of accidents incident to traffic will be reduced to a minimum.

It is a source of much satisfaction to those of us who are really interested in the welfare of our fellow-beings to note the headway temperance is making in this country. Statistics from Washington show that the revenue from distilled liquors has fallen off over four and one-fourth millions of dollars during the past twelve months. This advance in the progress of temperance is in accord with the great wave of temperance which is engulfing the world. Each of us should feel a personal interest in this and each of us should do all in his power to assist its progress. Right here I do not think it out of place to comment on the attitude of The Sun toward temperance. The Sun refuses to accept advertisements from liquor dealers who wish to attract attention to their goods. The far-reaching influence of this attitude on the part of the proprietor of a newspaper of The Sun's magnitude cannot be over-estimated in a manufacturing city like Lowell. The pity is that the policy is so rare even among newspapers that profess to have no love for the saloon.

Woman Suffrage

"How'er it be, it seems to me," that when a man gets to the point where his only objection to suffrage is natural dignity, and a woman's femininity—the last ditch and he may as well succumb gracefully to the inevitable, or else fall into the ditch and so cut himself off.

Men are worrying lest the feminist movement discourage the maternal and home-making instincts with which every woman is endowed by her Creator. Do not worry, Mr. Man. You might

NEW YORK, July 5.—Alexander Berkman, the I. W. W. agitator and anarchist leader, arranged a public demonstration of his radical followers at the funeral on Saturday, July 11, for the three victims of the bomb explosion in the Lexington avenue flat. It was alleged that these three men were in the anarchist plot to blow up John D. Rockefeller, but the bomb went off prematurely in the flat where it was made. Berkman, accompanied by Becky Edelsohn, Charles Plunkitt and others, were hoisted out of Tarrytown, N. Y., where they went to defend the twelve I. W. W. persons who were arrested for the free speech demonstrations. It is said that the New York authorities may order immediate burial of the bodies and if this is done trouble may be averted.

just as well adopt the role of King Canute and command the approaching tide to recede, as to stamp these instincts from woman. The sentiment of domesticity, of home-making, and the maternal instinct cannot be removed from her, whether she be the mate of a bush-whacker in Australia, or a play-actor in the Carolinas, or a little mill girl in Lowell, Massachusetts. These qualities are part of human nature, and gentlemen, you cannot reckon without taking human nature into account, nature study, hygiene, the higher thought, mental therapeutics, high ideals, the Montessori method and eugenics to the contrary. "It can't be done." I suppose, also, it is but another phase of human nature that man ever should have something about which to worry. Now while I am not so young as I used to be, I am neither ancient nor rock-ribbed as the sun, yet I can well recall when that odious opprobrium, now happily obsolete, "old maid," was man's way of designating his unmarried female relatives and friends. She was quite the butt of his ridicule, because she had not married. How the "old maid" still worries him, now because he chooses to think he has a formidable rival in the ballot. Truly, I believe that when Adam gave up a rib and thereby started the feminist movement, the rib was replaced by a thorn which still wriggles playfully in the side of man when he considers the trend of feminism.

TAG DAY COMMITTEE

EXPRESSES THANKS TO ALL WHO ASSISTED IN MAKING TAG DAY A SUCCESS

The special committee on Tag Day conducted for the Salem sufferers has the following expression of its thanks to all those who assisted in making the undertaking such a grand success:

We have the pleasure to announce that the work of the tag day committee is completed and the result far exceeds our expectations which result could never be accomplished were it not for the noble work of the ladies who had charge of the sale of tags. No language can convey our thanks to these noble women who worked from early morning until near the midnight hour to collect this money for the sufferers of the Salem disaster.

The same noble spirit that completed this work is still further displayed by those who attended to the reverse of the tag at city hall and who seek no credit for themselves for the work achieved. This only goes to prove what may be expected from the women of Lowell when the good name of our city is to be upheld. As the committee appointed by the committee of seventy we wish to thank each and every lady, chairman, secretary and treasurer and each down to the last one, that took part in this noble work that brought so much credit to our city and such relief to the Salem sufferers. We also wish to thank his honor the mayor of our city for his untiring efforts in the work of the day, being constantly on guard until midnight, attending to details. We desire to express our thanks to the Tobin Printing company who so kindly furnished the badges and tags free of charge, also the Mahoney Printing company for favors to the press for liberal space and to any and all who in any way helped to make this tag day a success.

The total amount collected amounted to $3255.57, expenses $45.56, making a net total of $3210.01.

We return our most sincere thanks. James O'Sullivan, William D. Brown, John H. Murphy, Tag Day Committee.

FIREPROOF FACTORIES

WILL BE ERECTED IN SALEM—WORK STARTED—POLICE TAKE OVER CONTROL OF CITY

SALEM, July 5.—Control of the fire-swept area and the refugee camps passed smoothly into the hands of the augmented city police last evening, when the militia were withdrawn, after serving since the evening of June 25.

Already the manufacturers are taking steps to rebuild and at a meeting yesterday received tentative plans for a big fireproof factory structure. Permits for two factories were granted by the city council.

The relief committee estimates $300,000 will be needed to rehabilitate all the burned-out families. At Forest River park last night 1900 persons were given rations.

The police department of 62 regular and reserve officers was augmented yesterday afternoon by qualifying 60 special officers, and it is thought they will be enough to handle the situation.

Col. Frank A. Graves, who was in command of the militia during the past 11 days, is generously praised for his efficient management. Among the 1500 men on service in Salem there were only six occasions when it was necessary to resort to court-martials to punish offenders of military rules.

Regret is expressed by many of the citizens that all the state police have been withdrawn, as it is believed the presence of a few members would prove of benefit to the local police in dealing with confidence men and thieves.

Relief work at the state armory and other stations was conducted more satisfactorily yesterday than ever before. Assistance is being given with less red tape. The number of rations issued yesterday was considerably greater than Monday, and about equal to the number distributed June 28.

THE MILK SITUATION

For some years past the milk producers of this state and a majority of our legislators have been at odds on some important points relating to the industry and a condition of dissatisfaction has been created which reflects directly on the public. So involved is the question and so related to many other interests that it is difficult to get at the facts or to outline a remedy. But it is quite generally claimed that Massachusetts has hampered her milk producers to the great advantage of the producer in other states and to the disadvantage of the general public. There seems to be a general feeling of dissatisfaction with the entire situation with an eye to removing the conditions that at present hamper the industry and that are inimical to the best interests of Massachusetts.

With a full recognition of the involved condition of the state milk industry, plans for a comprehensive survey were adopted a few days ago at a conference in the Boston chamber of commerce, participated in by delegates from the agricultural departments of the government, the state granges and the state colleges of the six New England states. The survey will begin about August 1, and will consist of hearings in each state, the special subjects of inquiry to be the problems of production, transportation and distribution of milk in New England. As representatives from each state pledge their support and co-operation, it is to be expected that the survey will result in specific knowledge of the milk situation, with ultimate reform in mind, resulting in greater satisfaction to the producer and to the public.

It is to be hoped that the farming interests in all sections of New England will co-operate with the leaders of this intended survey for the betterment of the milk industry and all relating to it. At the recent meeting of the secretary of the New England Milk Producers' association said that this body, including 1200 producers who ship milk to Boston, is of the opinion that owing to the chaotic state of business, farmers are producing milk at a loss. This statement bears out the argument of the milk producers who some time ago took their milk to Boston common and poured it into the ground, alleging that they could not sell it at a profit. Though the public would scarcely approve of such criminal waste, it is preposterous to suppose that any industry can ultimately stand the attacks of laws which undermine its profits. Laws, and very stringent ones, are needed in relation to the milk supply, but if the laws that are being made from year to year continue to antagonize those whom they affect, the industry must eventually be ruined.

The secretary of the chamber of commerce committee on agriculture outlined the proposed survey at the recent meeting and attributed the present uncertainty to the fact that farmers do not know where the milk goes, how it is transported, or that the cost of production differs very widely. He thought that by hearings to be held in co-operation with the state departments of agriculture and the state colleges and granges, the farmers of the country will learn useful facts about the different conditions in different localities, the cost of transportation at all points, the prices paid, wholesale and retail, and many other kindred things. The comparative results gained in different sections ought then to show to the farmer who is not satisfied with conditions where his business could be improved, and these genuinely interested in the milk situation will be enabled to base their observations on the finding of reputable experts.

THOUGHTLESS BANTERING

Those who are conversant with conditions in some of the foreign sections of the city know that too often foolish and thoughtless bantering by young men and boys has serious results, and this habit of bantering should be discontinued in every possible manner. Frequently exchanges of wit or meaningless jesting with racial peculiarities in their eyes in the police court and still the tendency to awake foreign animosity continues to the detriment of a good public feeling in a city like Lowell.

An instance of the type commented on occurred on one of our street cars the night before the Fourth when boys and young men were filled with animal spirits that might lead them into danger. In the front cars sat a half dozen or so of large representatives of a foreign group. They were interfering with the car and were evidently enjoying it very much in innocent fun. Each wore a bright coronation and their play was more child-like than that of the average American group. Some of their laughing remarks—in a foreign tongue—reached the back seats where sat another group of self-satisfied young men going to one of the popular dance halls. At once the superior group started to have fun with the other, mimicking their remarks and otherwise making objectionable comment on innocent amusement. As usual what began in banter wound up in insult and no one would have blamed the members of the foreign group if they resented the insult and unwelcome attention of their critics. Had a free fight resulted, undoubtedly the sympathy of those who were not present would go to the native group, and some criticism of foreigners would be heard on all sides.

A matter such as this may seem too slight for notice, but the influence of such trivial things goes a long way towards preventing the growth of a better spirit between our cosmopolitan people and American institutions. If our foreign groups were regarded with more general sympathy and encouraged generally, a great deal of future trouble would be averted and our industrial centres would benefit materially. Those who are alien and naturally suspicious should be shown that they will meet co-operation and friendliness instead of misunderstanding and ridicule.

ADVICE TO NEW HAVEN

If there was any doubt of the sentiments of Public Service Commissioner George W. Anderson with regard to the Fisher-Edwards bill with its attached "strife" it has been removed by a lengthy and very explicit letter, written by the able commissioner to Moorfield Storey, the road's attorney, and published on Tuesday. In this letter Mr. Anderson takes up each phase of the bill and discusses it very frankly with the railroad official, advising the road in conclusion to swallow the bill as the most direct way out of the present middle. In view of the opposition of the railroad and of its threat to take the matter to the courts, the public will await its answer to the advice of Mr. Anderson with much interest.

One point in Mr. Anderson's letter deserves special mention. It is that in which he said: "Your board of directors must face the irrefutable fact that this provision was inserted, not in any spirit of vengeance towards the New Haven, nor in any desire to injure the interests that your board of directors represent, but as these legislators believed, for the purpose of protecting both the general rate, paying public, and the general public against exploitation of the kind that has prevailed during the past ten years or more." It would seem from this that Mr. Anderson regards the reserved right of the state to acquire the stock as a necessary precaution against further financial exploitation of the New Haven stock. In this, he apparently voices the general opinion of Massachusetts, though state ownership is not desired directly, except as a necessary evil.

If the New Haven carries out its threat to reopen the old controversy by taking the matter between itself and the state to the courts, it may receive theoretical vindication but it will probably consummate the suicide commenced, according to Mr. Anderson, ten years ago. Its financial condition and public sentiment are both against this method of realignment.

AERIAL FOES

A despatch from England calls attention very strikingly to the fact that science is advancing, for a new line of coast defenses is to be erected owing to the application of the airship to modern warfare. Towers are to be raised at strategic points near forts and important harbors with specially adjustable guns that may be turned on an aerial enemy at will. This will impose a great cost on the country but it seems to be necessitated by the great advance in the science of aviation, especially relating to war. It is probably but a matter of time before all countries will have to adopt similar precautionary measures, though America at the present time needs such towers least of any country on earth. England has never quite got over its scare of a German ship invasion which is feared more than was the Spanish armada.

LEGISLATURE PROLOGUED

The last session of the general court of 1914 has come to an end and the weary legislators have turned from Beacon Hill to more pleasant and more reasonable haunts. Undoubtedly a great many people have heaved a sigh of relief, and possibly some regard its closing with regret. Unlike general courts of other years it ended in vigorous activity and some of the most important matters of the legislative period were crowded into its last days. The inevitable review that follows pro-

Mrs. Susan L. B. Wilbur, a Nurse of Rockland, Mass., says: "For many years I have used Comfort Powder in the nursery to heal and prevent chafing of mother and baby. Comfort Powder is rightly named. It is a comfort indeed. As other nurses say, it is a skin healing wonder."

location shows it to have been at the busiest legislative of the year and in all fairness it must be admitted that for achievement it compares favorably with past legislatures. In the vast superior to the first legislative sessions of 1913. It sat for 121 days and enacted 746 acts and 109 resolutions. It did not in the main run counter to the wishes of the governor, having received 14 vetoes from him and having sustained him on all of them. It killed some very pernicious measures and put through such important bills as the following: the Fisher-Edwards bill to allow the separation of the Boston and Maine and New Haven to permit the use of injunctions in labor disputes; to abolish party enrollment; to appropriate a million dollars for the navigation of the Merrimack, subject to federal co-operation, and many others.

ARBITRATION DESIRABLE

Whatever the respective merits of the question involved between the coal dealers and the teamsters may be, it is for the best interests of the city that they be submitted to arbitration at the near future, as is recommended by the state board which has been here in an effort to straighten matters out. Unlike many other strikes in the vicinity there is nothing in the situation to engender bitterness in any of the opposing parties, and it seems possible for the principals to reach some amicable agreement without allowing the present conditions to continue until hardship to the public would result. It seems a clearly defined matter between the dealers and the teamsters and there is no urgent reason why any person should be involved at the present time. Lowell has been sluggish and free from labor troubles for quite a while, and all our people must hope that the present minor controversy will be submitted to arbitration and settled speedily. A strike is always a bad omen and when it comes, it holds the surest key to its prompt and equitable adjustment.

The midsummer edition of the Lowell (Ind.) Courier is a magnificent volume of thirty-six pages filled with interesting reading matter and illustrations of the industries and institutions of the city. Such a paper is credit not only to the publishers but to the city from which it is issued.

It takes men like George Fred Williams to call the attention of the world to our efficient diplomatic service. The exception proves the rule in this case.

The refusal of congress to aid Salem ought to act as a spur to the state pride of Massachusetts and urge us all on to further effort.

SEEN AND HEARD

In order to help along the industrial work in connection with the playgrounds Henry Carr is going to offer prizes for sewing and we haven't discovered that Henry's clothes need patching, either.

Tag day was a success and that is true of everything the women take hold of in earnest. Any movement that has the support of energetic, enterprising women cannot fail of success. More power to them!

John N. Cole is a good old soul, yet he is—and list to his verdict on the general court of 1914: "It is doubtful if, in the history of the commonwealth, there has ever been on the statute books such a mass of ill conceived and badly considered legislation as that which will make up the work of the 1914 body." John N. Cole sits in his tent over a mess of sour grapes.

On the morning of July 4, I met a young fellow who had lived in Lowell for fifteen years and who went to New York city about three years ago. He was looking the picture of health and prosperity and I asked him how things were going with him and how he liked New York. He said he was doing well and that New York is a great city, "but," he continued, "New York does not seem like home to me. I like Lowell and when the opportunity affords itself I always take the run over here. I wouldn't miss the South common midway on the night before under any circumstances and I always make it a point to spend independence day in Lowell."

RELIEF WORK AND STATUTES

A sum aggregating $50,000, which the Hawthorne Memorial association of Salem was to pay for Dick Pratt's statue of Nathaniel Hawthorne, has been directed into channels of relief for the Salem sufferers, and the beautiful statue is now stashed in the sculptor's studio on St. George street. Mr. Pratt began work on the statue two years ago, and was carrying the work to completion. Judge Allen White, chairman of the statue committee, appointed by the Hawthorne association, is now decided that the confagration has created a more important issue, and that all money at hand should be put into the relief work coffers and not spent for statues. He stated yesterday that the purchase of Mr. Pratt's statue will be made eventually and that it will occupy the western front of the Salem common, a point untouched by the fire.

MISSISSIPPI RIVER BARGE

A steel barge which has just been built at New Orleans by J. H. Bernard for use on the Mississippi is expected by its sponsors to reduce the cost of transportation on the river. Under the auspices of the inland navigation bureau, the barge left New Orleans, July 6. The barge is one of several producer gas propelled flat bottom craft with large freight-carrying capacity. The cost of moving freight by them, even under existing unfavorable conditions, is expected to be more than half a mill per ton mile, while the cost under best conditions may be cut down to one-fourth or one-eighth of a mill per ton mile. These barges, unlike the old flat boats, have steel from stem to stern. They are so shaped as to hold every possible ton of freight. The crew needed to navigate a loaded 1000-ton barge consists of seven men all told.

On the trip to St. Paul, 1000 tons of Louisiana lumber was taken up, and 1000 tons of export flour and other commodities will be brought back to New Orleans.

INSPIRED BY LEGISLATURE

The Massachusetts legislature, whose members all worry, closed the year's session last night was always had to stand much facetious comment on the length of its deliberations. Forty-seven years ago it inspired a writer, who coined the name "Betsy Jones," to send down from Berkshire county a purely local "The Brunkard's Child," which was intended no doubt to "bury" it along. That year (1867) the legislature was prorogued June 1.

Senator Frederic H. Hilton of Framingham took a copy of the verses to the state house yesterday for the edification of his fellow-members. The poem, which bears the title "While at Home to Her Husband in the Legislature," was found among the papers of a South Boston resident who died not long ago.

Husband, dear husband, come home to me now,
From the city and state house, so warm,
This house without you, why do you not come?

And see to the things on the farm?
You told me, when you were elected last fall,If I would but once let you go,
You'd surely return before April was past.

I really believed 't would be so.
Come home! come home! come home!
Dear husband, kind husband, come home.

Husband, dear husband, come home to me now,
Come home 'er the spring time is through,
The old brindle cow has got a white calf,
And the young lambs are bleating for you.

The hens have been sitting a fortnight or more,
The span will be off with their broods,
The old speckled turkey has stolen her nest.

Away in the brakes or the woods,
Come home! come home! come home!
Dear husband, kind husband, come home.

Husband, dear husband, come home to me now.

Colorado and Yellowstone Park Combined in One Trip

What could be more attractive than to visit these two of America's greatest wonders on one trip—Colorado with its Royal Gorge and majestic mountains; Yellowstone Park with its many geysers and natural phenomena. Wouldn't it make a splendid summer outing from a pleasure and educational viewpoint?

Let me tell you how easily and comfortably this trip can be made even in as short a time as two weeks. I want to send you a pamphlet describing several ways of making this "Two-in-One Trip" giving charges and explaining in detail how much can be included, and also give you any other information you may want.

There is no charge for this. It is my work and pleasure and part of the Huntington Service. I'll be glad to tell you the best way to go and believe you of all details. Write or call today for your copy of the pamphlet "Colorado and Yellowstone Tours."

EDITORIAL COMMENT

A THIRTIETH SOCIETY
An American society for thrift has just been formed in New York for the purpose of lowering the cost of living by the sensible method of reducing the spiritist habit. Such a society is a welcome one and it could have chosen no better field for its initial studies and operations than New York, the city of spenders and high-cost living.—Schenectady Herald.

WOMEN AT PRIZE FIGHTS
Writing of the attendance of women at a prize fight in London a reporter says that "fortunately there was no blood to shock them." Does anybody really think that the sort of woman who goes to a prize fight would be shocked by the spilling of blood? She might easily be disgusted if there was anything of the kind, however.—Brooklyn Enterprise.

THE IMMIGRANTS
Worth thinking of, also by the alarmists about the "new immigration" was the illustrative fact noted by Alfred S. Row in his talk in the Lake View Congregational church yesterday regarding the reading of the Declaration of Independence at the city hall exercises on the Fourth. Perhaps a score of men of Anglo-Saxon blood were present, he said. Italians, Lithuanians, and other immigrant races were well represented, and they all listened to the end to the reading of this immortal document.

The people that love the day must deeply be affected, "are not the descendants of the men of the Mayflower or even of the Revolution." It is the newcomers that appreciate most earnestly what it means.—Worcester Post.

STATE LIFE INSURANCE
State life insurance has been established in Wisconsin, and the opportunity afforded for citizens to place policies was grasped on the very first day the new law went into effect with an eagerness which warranted the belief that the plan was to be very popular.

That belief has proved well founded, for although the plan has been in effect but a few months the number of policy holders has steadily increased and the success of the venture is assured. Wisconsin is the first state to adopt this measure, though similar laws are in force in a number of countries in Europe.—Newport News.

CHAMBERLAIN
Joseph Chamberlain was first of all and more than all an Imperialist. He wanted to bring the parts of the British Empire into closer union and make it stronger. But the road he chose was the road to destruction. He was a protectionist. He would retaliate on protectionist countries with protection in Great Britain; and would draw the colonies closer to the mother country by preferential tariffs. His scheme would have been a calamity.—Lewis Sun.

WHY NOT BOTH?
No wonder we reported George Fred and decided not to talk again on the Atlantic when they had a relapse. Will somebody please send the Dedham diplomat a pass home, or a muzzle.—Brooklyn Times.

POLICE COURT SESSION

Liquor Case Heard — Woman Fined — Boy Who Stole Team Fined $75 — Other Cases

Mrs. Bridget Sullivan was arraigned on continuance before Judge Enright in police court this forenoon charged with unlawfully keeping and exposing for sale intoxicating liquors. She denied the charge and the case went to trial under a plea of not guilty.

According to the testimony of the officers who conducted the raid on Sunday, June 21, enough liquor was found to stock a small store and Mrs. Sullivan offered the defense that her husband was a heavy drinker but this did not satisfy the court and the defendant was fined $75 and committed to the Lowell jail for the term of one month. She appealed and was held in the sum of $200 for the superior court.

Officer Philip Murphy of the liquor squad was the first witness for the government and he stated that he watched the premises for several hours on Sunday forenoon, June 21, and saw a large number of persons enter or leave the house which is located at 159 Fletcher street. He said that when the raid was made on the following Sunday the officers found 46 bottles of whiskey, a quantity of beer, over 100 bottles of ale, besides about 250 empty bottles which were distributed about the house.

Mrs. Sullivan said part of the liquor found was hers and the rest belonged to lodgers. There are twenty rooms in the house and all but two occupied. She denied selling liquor.

In imposing the sentence the court remarked that he did believe the defendant was responsible for all of the liquor that was found on the premises but he was not satisfied with her explanation about the whiskey found in the attic and part of that in the kitchen.

John Keris pleaded not guilty to a complaint charging him with the larceny of $500 from a brother-in-law.

John Showkem, and at the request of the attorney for the government, J. Joseph O'Connor, the case was continued until Saturday for trial. Defendant was held in the sum of $100.

The complaint alleges that he drew $500 from a bank a short time ago believing that it would not be stolen from him in a box in his room at 14 Auburn street. However, last Thursday the money was missing and so was John Keris, who roomed in the same house, and as a result a complaint was made to the police. Monday evening the defendant was arrested in Lynn and brought to this city on the charge although he stoutly denies that he is the guilty party.

Lively Battle
There was a lively midnight battle near Davidson street last week when Catherine Nichols went to the home and variety store of one Mary Ramanowski to collect the sum of 25 cents which the former claimed was owed to her and as a result Mary was brought before the court charged with assault and battery upon Catherine.

John J. Donahue for the complainant. What reason Catherine had in picking out the late hour to collect the bill was not made known but she stated that when she entered the defendant's apartment she was given a cool reception and when she asked for the money was kicked and punched several times, sustaining bruises about the face and arms. Each alleged that the other was intoxicated but the evidence of witnesses showed that the defendant did the striking and she was ordered to pay a fine of $20.

Larceny Charge
Francis X. Archambault, aged 13 years, was brought before the court on continuance charged with stealing a horse, wagon and harness valued at $155 from Frank Dineen.

The case was continued from Monday in the hope that some word would be heard from the defendant's parents in Monday.

trial, but nothing was received and his Honor imposed a fine of $15.

Liquor Case
Frank Vorranauld, accused of illegally selling liquor on July 3, pleaded guilty and was fined $50, which he paid.

The case of William Blerler, who it is alleged, stabbed a companion named Daniel F. Moriarty during an argument on July 4, was continued until tomorrow and defendant was held in the sum of $300.

Liberty Square Row

The row in Liberty square which occurred over a week ago was settled before Judge Pickman in the second session of court today. It will be remembered that the case was tried a week ago and this forenoon Attorney Hogan and Tierney made their arguments. Nicholas Ayash, John Maria and Albert Shoben were fined $5 each for disturbing the peace. Nicholas and Michael Ayash, accused of assault and battery upon John Maria, were found not guilty and discharged while Sadie Ayash was fined $12 for assault and battery upon Mario Maria.

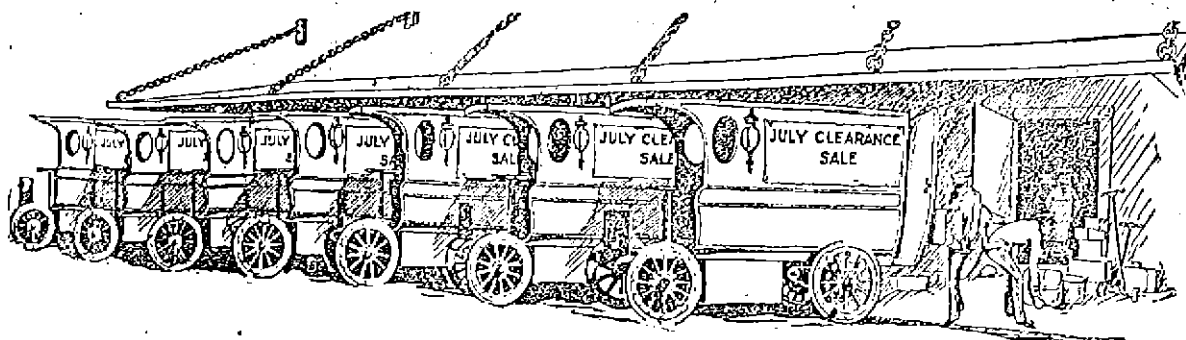

Dennis J. Mahoney, non-supporter, had his case continued until Saturday. On woman was sent to jail for three months for drunkenness while another was given a suspended sentence to Sherburne. An old timer was given a three months' sentence to the house of correction and a second offender was placed on probation for the term of six months.

AMERICAN WILD PIGEONS

ATHOL, July 8.—L. S. Billings, agent for the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, said today that he believed he had discovered some of the original species of passenger pigeons, long supposed to have been extinct. Within a few days he expects to know for a certainty.

Mr. Billings is an expert in breeding pigeons. About a week ago a pigeon which answers the description of the passenger, came to his loft. Mr. Billings coaxed it with grain and the next day it returned with a mate. Later there were six of them, which seemed to complete the lot. Careful study of them has convinced him that they are real American wild pigeons.

The American wild pigeon is said to have been one of the most beautiful and graceful birds on the continent. Its back was a variable blue and its neck was richly glossed with metallic golden violet and white. Years ago they swarmed by the billions but now are supposed to be extinct.

RETURNS FROM IRELAND SOLEMN SERVICES HELD

Humphrey O'Sullivan Arrived in Lowell Today—Has Letter of Thanks From Mr. Redmond

Humphrey O'Sullivan arrived in Lowell today from his visit to Ireland in the best of health and spirits and most enthusiastic over the prospects for the future of the old country.

While in Cork Mr. O'Sullivan read John Redmond's appeal to the Irish in America and immediately responded with the following letter to the Irish leader:

Victoria Hotel, Cork, June 25, '14.
Dear Mr. Redmond:
I have read the appeal which you have made to our race in America and I am anxious at once to respond to it.

HUMPHREY O'SULLIVAN

I am just now paying a visit to Ireland and I am impressed beyond measure at the strength and vitality of the Irish Volunteer movement. Your recognition of the movement and the practical and earnest support which you have given me make it incumbent on every Irishman in every part of the world to give prompt and practical assistance and I therefore enclose by check for 100 pounds. On my return to America I trust to be able to organize further assistance and to show that you have helped you the strength and ability of our race in the United States.

Yours faithfully,
Humphrey O'Sullivan.
In reply to Mr. O'Sullivan's letter, John E. Redmond sent the following:

June 26, 1914.
Dear Mr. O'Sullivan:

Pray accept my heartiest thanks for your letter and your generous contribution of 100 pounds toward the Irish Volunteers.

I trust that on your return visit you will find a thoroughly organized and armed force in existence.
Very truly yours,
John E. Redmond.
Humphrey O'Sullivan, Esq., Victoria Hotel, Cork.
Mr. O'Sullivan says the organization of the volunteers in Ireland is a clever stroke and he bears a message from Mr. Redmond to the friends of Ireland in this country for united action in support of the volunteers until the home rule question is settled.

The contribution of $500 was greatly appreciated by Mr. Redmond and other leaders.

PAYING JOB HELD UP

It was impossible to get a statement from Charles J. Morse, commissioner of streets and highways, this morning, inasmuch as he went away early in his automobile with Mayor Murphy and Commissioners Brown and Donnelly. The mayor's private secretary said he did not know where the mayor had gone but he didn't expect him back until late in the afternoon. Nobody connected with Mr. Brown's office knew of his whereabouts, but they said they did not expect him back today. At Mr. Donnelly's office it was stated that the commissioner was away for the day and it was the same story at Mr. Morse's office.

It remained for Commissioner Carmichael, the only remaining member of the municipal council, to throw some light on the subject and the colonel wasn't very sure about it. He guessed, however, that his colleagues had gone to Cambridge to find out how the application of civil service to city laborers operates in that city.

While these four gentlemen are looking into municipal affairs in the university city, looking for granted, that Mr. Carmichael's guess is correct, people are fairly standing on their heads in Lowell because of the holdup in Gorham street. It was stated this afternoon that unless the work was resumed with some show of vigor and earnestness tomorrow morning an indignation meeting would be held. Just how much good an indignation meeting would do is food for conjecture to nothing else.

There are a few men working in Gorham street today, but no cement is being used. The men are waiting out old blocks and making other blocks ready for the cement. There wasn't anybody on the job today in a position to say anything as to the possible outcome of the situation. The state board of arbitration didn't succeed in doing anything yesterday toward bringing the conflicting parties any closer together. The board sought to find a common ground on which parties to the trouble might meet, but they failed to discover the ground.

The funeral of Rev. Herman S. Pinkham, pastor of the First Baptist church, was held at the church this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. There was a very large attendance of the church members and other friends of the deceased. The services were conducted by Rev. J. E. Dinsmore, assistant pastor, who read appropriate selections from the scriptures. Prayer was offered by Rev. C. H. Spaulding of Boston, a life-long friend and former pastor of Rev. Mr. Pinkham's father and mother. There were vocal selections by the church quartet, including "Nearer, My God, to Thee," "Face to Face," and "Crossing the Bar." Friends from Lowell were joined by many from out of town in an effort to lighten the sorrow of the bereaved family by words of consolation and beautiful floral tributes.

his own tears and that I would deduct the cost of teaming from the bill. It means considerable expense to me to put the car there, but I wanted to do what I could to help out the paving job. I cannot understand why there should be any hitch now. Our teamsters are not in any way connected with this particular car. The city teamsters and street employees in general are, as I understand it, mostly union men. In that event I do not see why they should refuse to handle the cement."

Mr. Morse said yesterday he was in hopes that the conference between the state board of arbitration and arbitration would result in some tangible understanding between the parties in question and inasmuch as the state board did not make any headway, Mr. Morse will have to take the reins in his own hands. It has been suggested that the mayor call a special meeting of the municipal council to take some action in the matter, but it is not Mr. Morse's first experience with men and unions and the chances are he will straighten matters out without the assistance of his brother members in the council. The straightening out process cannot come too quickly as the demand for Gorham street as a public thoroughfare is very great and, not only that, but the people in the Highlands are up in arms, too, over the Westford street job. If the holdup in Gorham street should continue for any considerable length of time, it would mean "good night" to the Westford street job and they can see the handwriting on the wall. Something has got to be done right away and Mr. Morse will certainly have the assistance of his brother members on the board and public support as well in any move that he may make toward the resumption of operations in full, in Gorham street.

Sever in Chestnut Street
Sewer department men are busily engaged in removing a portion of an old drain in Chestnut street in order to lay a city sewer there. The old drain was built in 1893 and it will be replaced in Chestnut street by 500 feet of sewer that will connect with the High street sewer. The old drain in question starts up around Nesmith street, comes down over streets and across lots including the immaculate Conception church grounds and thence into the river. The old sewer has been intercepted at various points and Delegations were present from the former parishes held by deceased, namely: St. Auburn, South Parish, Maine; Winter Hill and Washington, D. C. The interment was at Watertown, Mass., a former home of the deceased and a great many of those who attended the services at the First Baptist church made up a large procession who went over the road in automobiles as an escort to the body.

The pall bearers were the deacons of the church: Warren L. Floyd, Harry F. Sticks, Arthur French, F. A. Boyen, Mr. Buchanan, W. W. Buzzell and Charles Middle. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Larkin T. Trull and William P. Sheppard. The ushers were F. J. Fleishings, Robert Friend, George F. Wagner and James F. Fleishings. Undertaker Geo. W. Healey had charge of the funeral and conducted the burial at Watertown.

Flush and Post Hydrants
Flush hydrants are being taken out and post hydrants installed in several streets throughout the city. The flush hydrants have been in use for years and are pretty well worn out and, besides, the post hydrant is an up-to-date hydrant. Every year the department substitutes post hydrants for flush hydrants, but more post hydrants are being installed this year than for any preceding year.

OUTING TODAY
The annual outing of the members of the Children of Mary sodality of the Immaculate Conception church was held today at Silver lake. The trip to the summer resort was made by special car, which left East Merrimack street near the church at 9 o'clock this morning, and it was a most pleasant one.

Out-door amusements of all descriptions were enjoyed and a dainty dinner was served on the green. The clergyman present were the pastor, Rev. Lawrence P. Tighe, O. M. I., Rev. F. Sullivan, O. M. I., Rev. Fr. McMartin, O. M. I., and Rev. Fr. McQuaid, O. M. I. The return trip will be made late this afternoon.

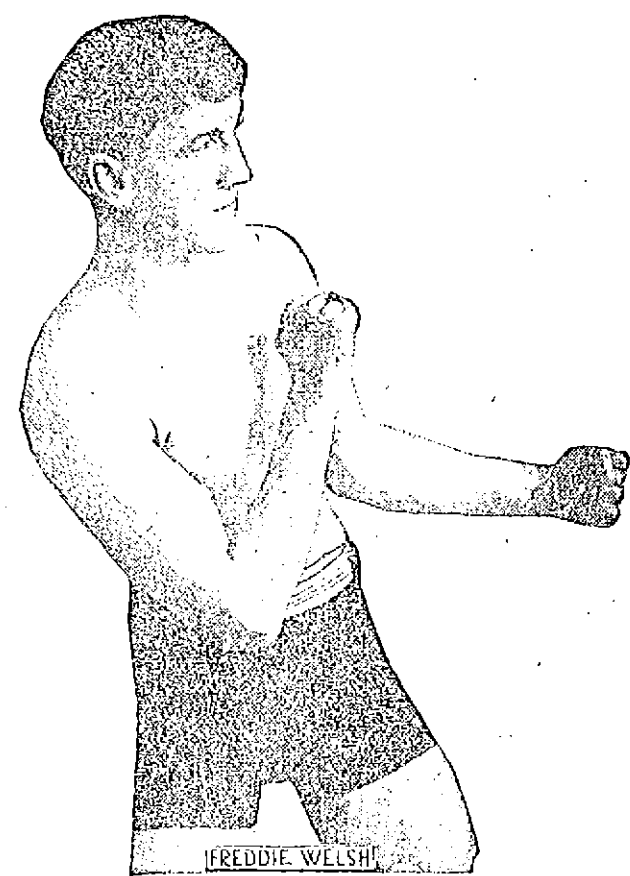

The boys and girls of the West Chelmsford church Sunday school enjoyed a picnic at Lakeside today. The children, accompanied by their teachers, were rowed to the park in electric cars and they spent a most enjoyable day.

2 MEN BLOWN TO ATOMS

EXPLOSION OF SEVERAL HUNDRED QUARTS OF NITRO GLYCERINE AT FINELAY, O.

FINELAY, O., July 8.—Charles Armstrong and P. H. Longbaugh, oil well shooters, were blown to atoms today by the explosion of several hundred quarts of nitro glycerine which they were taken to Buckland to shoot an oil well. Two children were knocked to the ground nearby, severely injured, and thousands of panes of glass in the vicinity were broken.

NEW LIGHTWEIGHT CHAMP TOMMY DALY VISITS LOWELL

Former Local Catcher Took Advantage of Rainy Day

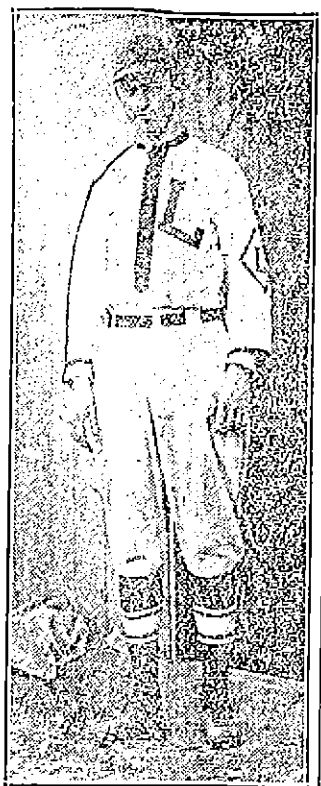

Boy Who Made Home Run Before the King Looks Just the Same

Tommy Daly, last year the mainstay of the Lowell club behind the bat and now famous as the boy who made the home run drive over in England for the White Sox with King George as an interested fan, was in Lowell last night after a long day's run up when the Red Sox-White Sox game was called off.

Tommy looks just the same as ever. He's the same pink checked youngster who was wont to pile them out for the locals last season and doesn't look a minute older in spite of his trip around the world with the party of big leaguers last winter.

Although Daly isn't playing regularly for Jimmy Callahan's club he is looked upon as a very promising young ball player who will be heard from beyond a doubt in the next couple of seasons. He is out with the club in practice every day and Callahan is gradually teaching him the fine points of the outfield.

There have been few ball players who earned their salaries by playing the home games at Spaulding park who have left as many friends behind them when they left Lowell as did Tommy Daly. His quiet manner and ready smile under all conditions have gained him a large following among the local fans who are rooting for him to soon jump into a regular berth with the White Sox.

BIG BASEBALL TRADE

CINCINNATI, July 8.—Following a lengthy conference with President Herrmann yesterday, Manager Herzog of the Reds announced that he has completed a deal that will bring four or five new players to Cincinnati and the team, next Saturday or Sunday, will take the field with an almost complete change in lineup.

While Herzog would not mention the names of the players involved in the deal on either side, it is known that two Giants at least, and perhaps one or two more, will be perhaps changing around in Red uniforms, while a like number of Red players will be drawing salary from the New York club.

In baseball circles yesterday it was stated that Dick Houtzack, first baseman, Johnnie Bates, outfielder of the Reds, and Armando Marsans, crack outfielder, the latter whom the Reds acquired from playing with the St. Louis Cardinals, will be traded for Snodgrass and Murray of the Giants. It is also stated that a New York pitcher will come to Cincinnati and that the Reds would play with no other team than the Giants.

CREDITS BACK TO YANKEES

NEW YORK, July 8.—The New York American league club yesterday completed a deal by which "Birdie" Greer, for years the star left fielder of the club, was purchased from the Baltimore Orioles. Greer was sold to Baltimore last winter. He had a poor season in 1913 after breaking an arm in 1912. His work with Baltimore was so good that Chance decided to recall him.

BOUGHT BY CINCINNATI

BALTIMORE, July 8.—While Jack Dunn will not admit it, deals have been practically consummated by which Shortstop Claude Derrick and Outfielder George Troschley of the Orioles will soon be wearing Cincinnati uniforms.

EXPECTS EXONERATION

Mrs. Angie Believes She Will Be Absolved in the Ballou Case in Stamford, Conn.

STAMFORD, Conn., July 8.—That Mrs. Helen M. Angie expects Colonel Thelan to exonerate her when he resumes his duties in the death of William H. Ballou was apparent yesterday in a remark she made to the police matron, Mrs. Scarpina Natale.

"I am stronger and contented now," she said, "and I hope the coroner will finish his inquiry soon. I want my exoneration to be complete and I expect to be able to leave here when he finishes the inquiry."

LOW MORTALITY RATE

Record for June in Providence Unprecedented for Any Month in Its History Since 1888.

PROVIDENCE, July 8.—The mortality rate of this city for June was the lowest for that month in the history of the city, and with the exception of January, 1888, the lowest ever recorded. The June record was 1,622 per 100,000 people, or 232 deaths in an estimated population of 215,162.

Health department officials said yesterday that the record is remarkable, but are unable to attribute it to any particular cause.

WASH TO SEE WILSON

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Governor Walsh of Massachusetts will call on President Wilson today to urge him to use his influence to get Congress to appropriate $500,000 for the relief of the Salinas river sufferers.

Despite the action of the house appropriations committee in refusing to approve the request, Governor Walsh has hopes that Congress can be induced to make the appropriation.

FOR THE GARDEN PARTY

A large number of the members of St. Columba's church met in the parish hall last evening to make arrangements for the annual garden party. Mr. Andrew Meloy was chosen chairman, Mrs. John Monahan head of the refreshment table, and Miss Elizabeth Murphy in charge of the candy table. A white party in aid of the refreshment table will be held on the church grounds tomorrow evening.

PARENTS AT BEDSIDE

Mr. and Mrs. Wade Near Collapse—Poisoned Boy Is Holding His Own at Chicago

CHICAGO, July 8.—Lee Wade, boy captain of the junior class at the Culver Military academy, who took ill-chloride of mercury and was rushed to Wesley hospital in Chicago, is reported holding his own. His father and mother, Dr. and Mrs. Frances Wade, who were here on a special train from their home in Salem, Mass., are at his bedside. They have spent several days and nights working among the camps of the Salinas river victims and with this new worry are on the verge of collapse.

MANUFACTURER ENDS LIFE

MERIDEN, Conn., July 8.—Phyllis Handel, head of the P. J. Handel company, makers of art lamp shades, shot himself with fatal effect yesterday while in the garage connected with the plant. He left a note, and from its wording the medical examiner formed an opinion that Handel was suffering from temporary mental depression. His associates, however, say he had been in excellent health and spirits and was arranging to leave with Mrs. Handel for Montana next Monday to visit a brother. Mr. Handel was 45 years of age.

ATHLETES AND ATHLETICS

Willie Ritchie received, according to the most authentic reports, approximately $30,000 for his battle with Welsh. This is taking into account the motion picture bonus and what he made while training for the contest. Welsh was playing with the promoters on a percentage basis and did not fare nearly so well.

Probably the greatest lightweight battle ever waged on British soil between an American and an Englishman was for a purse of only $3500. This was the Kid Lavigne-Lavigne fight which Lavigne won by beating the title holder with his famous body punches.

A peculiar complication has arisen in the American bike game. Bobby Wadsworth has been suspended upon the allegations of a Belgian pacemaker that Bobby owes $1000 for services rendered. The pro riders got together yesterday and passed a resolution not to enter any of the motor paced races where Wadsworth is barred. The only one who is not yet in sight of the riders' stick to their resolve and the owners of the various tracks will not lift the suspension cycle racing will certainly be at a premium.

The most potent question just now before the N. E. A. A. U. is "what is a novice?" The New England branch of the N. E. A. A. U. after coming to no definite decision on the subject, New York officials for a while. The answer appears plain enough on the face of it for the rule in question states that a novice is an athlete who has not won a prize. Whether or not this applies to the present event or to track and field events in general is where the controversy comes in.

There will be a big athletic meet in Lawrence next Saturday the receipts of which will be turned over to the Salinas sufferers. The N. E. A. A. U. and Irish-American teams will be entered in the meet. None of the athletes will be given prizes.

The Lowell police team will play on their last game in the state league tomorrow when they go to Lynn and engage the cops of that town. This contest decides whether or not Lowell stands at the head of her division. Should the local guardians of peace and order win a single defeat, the winners of the two divisions in the police league will then play off a series of three games for the police championship of the state.

"Say, you fellows must think you've got something on my club," said Jessa Burkett yesterday when Manager Gray told him to take his team out to the park. It was raining then but the local manager thought that the team would be in shape for a game. There were several holes around the diamond, however, and the game had to be postponed much to the disappointment of the Lowell players. They certainly consider the Worcester team easy prey.

"Shorty" Dea went back to Boston

last night with Tommy Daly and spent the night with the White Sox squad, going over to Pittsburg this afternoon. "Shorty" and Tommy were roommates last season and the Lowell shortstop is one of Daly's greatest admirers.

As we have mentioned before it would save a great deal of confusion if Greenhalge was announced as Greenhalge instead of Thomas. When he plays in some cities his name is given as Thomas and in others Greenhalge. As long as his right name is the umpire to do the same. It looks rather silly to see the name "Greenhalge" appear in print when the umpire announced that Thomas would catch.

Although Freddie Welsh outpointed Willie Ritchie the odds which were being given on the Englishman at the time were certainly covered with sentiment. How a sane man could see a 7-4 bet coming his way on Welsh's chances is quite beyond us. Freddie is a wonderful boxer and showed more stamina last night than he did before. However, the English rule which prohibits hitting with one hand free greatly handicapped Ritchie. Although Ritchie was beaten on points it will take more than last night's fight of convince the sporting public that Welsh is champion of the world.

The yacht race between the candidates for the honor of defending America's cup was held up yesterday on account of thick weather and other unfavorable conditions. The heavy seas may keep the sailing craft tied up today, in which case the three cornered contest will be on tomorrow.

The Braves played very poor ball in their exhibition game with the Buffalo team and the result was a 10-2 defeat for the National leaguers. Strand and Corcoran were both hit hard by the Buffalo club.

The New Britain club of the Eastern association is a poor money maker, according to the statement issued yesterday by its owner. The club owner says that he has lost $10,000 since breaking into the Eastern association in that town. New Britain is bringing up the rear in the race and is playing mediocre ball. You can't make money with a club that is outplayed by the other teams in the circuit. Wonder if this last statement would apply to any New England league club owner?

The request of a Boston sporting writer this morning that the games of all double-headed be shortened to seven innings seems very appropriate. Fourteen innings of baseball is enough for the most enthusiastic fan to witness during an afternoon. There is usually a small percentage of the total attendance present during the last few innings of the second game.

TRAIN WRECKED

Seven Injured When Central Vermont Train Ran Into Washout

SHELDON, Vt., July 8.—Seven persons were injured, one seriously, and many passengers were shaken up and bruised when a Central Vermont train ran into a washout near Sheldon Springs last night.

The accident happened in what is known as Chadwick Cut. The roadbed had been washed away by a terrible rainstorm, leaving a gully 20 feet deep below the tracks. The engine passed over before the track fell in but was derailed on the further side of the gully.

At the same instant the locomotive was derailed, the tracks gave way beneath the weight of the tender. The tender did not fall, however, as it was telescoped by the baggage car in such a way that it formed an arch spanning the gully.

The fireman was badly scalded and a mail clerk named Bishop was painfully hurt. The engineer, baggage men and six passengers received minor injuries. All were taken to a hospital at St. Albans today.

SUM OF $1441 RECEIVED

FOR RENTAL OF LOTS ON THE SOUTH COMMON ON FOURTH—$100 MORE THAN LAST YEAR

Supt. Kernan today reported that the sum of $1441 was received from rentals of lots on the South common for the fourth. This is $100 more than last year and $250 more than in 1912. The Lowell midway on the Fourth is becoming famous.

Revenue For Licenses

According to the report of Clerk John J. Flaherty of the license commission, the total number of booths and vendors on the South common on July 4 of this year was larger than ever before. The total revenue for licenses for the day was $186, as against $144 last year.

It cost the park department $175 to clean up the common after the fourth and this amount will have to come out of the department's badly depleted appropriation. This brings up again the point raised by Mr. McKay at the meeting of the park board Monday night, to the effect that the money received for lots and licenses should go toward defraying the park department's expenses rather than to turn it into the city treasury to be spent by other departments.

MAY VOTE TO STRIKE

REPRESENTATIVES OF TRAINMEN OF 67 LINES PREPARE ULTIMATUM TO BE SENT TO OFFICIALS

CHICAGO, July 8.—Representatives of the freight handlers, clerks, baggagemen, warehouse men and trainmen of 67 railroad lines west of Chicago were occupied today in preparing an ultimatum to be sent to the board of managers of the roads. A strike vote by the engineers and firemen of the roads is in progress. At the meeting yesterday the committee decided that all the railroad employees would act together in the matter of their demands.

TO CONFER IN MEXICO

Proposed Conference Between Huerta's Envoys and Constitutionalist Delegates

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Mexican territory probably will be chosen for the scene of the proposed conference between Huerta's envoys and constitutionalist delegates over plans for the establishment of a provisional government. Constitutionalists representatives in Washington today expressed preference for a neutral place in Mexico—probably along the border for the peace parley. Two of the Niagara mediators, Ambassador Da Gamma and Minister Suarez, were to center in New York today over details of the meeting.

With discussion among the constitutionalist leaders seemingly near, justness, members of the revolution army Junta here repeated expressions of confidence that the proposed Huerta-Carranza conference would take place. While the constitutionalist agents here have not determined on any particular place for the meeting they wish to divorce the proposed conference from any relation to the Niagara mediation proceedings, so that the Mexican people may thoroughly understand the method by which their new chief executive is agreed on.

ROOSEVELT IN NEW YORK INTENDED BRIDE MISSING

WHETHER HE WILL RUN FOR GOVERNOR OR NOT MAY BE DECIDED AT TODAY'S MEETING

OYSTER BAY, July 8.—Whether Colonel Roosevelt will accept the progressive nomination for governor of New York may possibly be decided today at a meeting at progressive headquarters here of the state leaders. Delegations of progressives from various parts of the state said frankly that they had not even considered another name for the head of the ticket.

Colonel Roosevelt came to New York by train from Oyster Bay and went at once to progressive headquarters. He declined to talk politics, but intimated that he might have something to say later.

Although Col. Roosevelt has said several times that he would not accept the nomination he admits that his doubts have made little impression on his political associates.

Ever since his return from Europe Col. Roosevelt has been receiving letters and telegrams from progressive leaders in various parts of the country urging him not to accept the nomination. In some instances these messages charged that the New York leaders are willing to run the chance of injuring the party in the union for the sake of making a good showing in this state.

Among those who talked with Col. Roosevelt were H. P. Gardner, industrial commissioner from Maine and progressive candidate for governor of that state, and Irving E. Vernon, progressive state chairman in Maine.

MILITANTS DRIVEN OUT

HAD MADE DESPERATE ATTEMPT TO ATTRACT ATTENTION OF KING AND QUEEN

DUNBARTON, Scotland, July 8.—Militant suffragettes made desperate efforts today to attract the attention of King George and Queen Mary, who are making a tour through Scotland. At Balmoral, the women set down all the decorations and at Dunbarton, ten miles from Glasgow, they managed to break out a huge banner bearing the words "Your majesty: stop the terrible fooding and torturing of women" across the route as the procession arrived. At the same time one woman armed with a megaphone howled denunciations of forcible feeding.

Neither the king nor the queen paid the slightest attention but the crowd who had gathered to see the royal majesties displayed such a hostile attitude that the militants beat a hasty retreat.

The students of stenography and typewriting in the city who as a rule have no opportunity to keep up their profession during the summer months will be glad to learn that the Lowell Commercial college will open July 13 for a summer course, prepared especially for those who do not care to lose adaptiveness by the long summer vacation of public and private schools.

The school will be open for a few hours each day the idea being now to retain what each individual has learned thus far in the year. The summer school students will have the use of the "model office" as well as all the rest of the school's equipment.

GUNBOAT SMITH CONFIDENT OF VICTORY OVER CARPENTIER IN BIG BOUT

GUNBOAT SMITH

Gunboat Smith, the big American "white hope," is confident that he can beat Georges Carpentier, the French champion, when they meet in Paris on July 16. Smith has challenged Carpentier to a fight in August, and if he wins decisively over the foreigner should be given a chance at the black.

JACK MATTHEWS IS REAL LEADER

Has Climbed Up in His Batting During Past Two Weeks

Matty is Dangerous Batter in the Pinch—Led Maine N. B. League

Jack Matthews is leading the Lowell players with the wand, having made rapid strides toward the top of the league's hitting list during the past two weeks. Matty's average at present is .324.

The Lowell center fielder has proved a find for Manager Gray and many a game has been won by the local team by Matthews' hitting in the pinches. The Worcester boy did not start off very well but has improved steadily and is now batting at a clip which will soon land him at the top if he continues to slug the sphere in the savage style he has displayed during the past fortnight.

Matthews had a difficult job on hand when he essayed to fill Pettegger's shoes after the latter's release but he went at it in his habitual quiet way and opposing clubs soon found to their sorrow that Lowell possessed a ball player of note in the middle garden.

The only fault that we have to find with Matthews is the manner in which he goes after balls which are hit over his head. He doesn't seem to size up a fly or a line drive very quickly and sometimes it is too late when he finally decides where it is going to land.

Matty is sure death on fly balls or line drives in front of him and is fast enough to come in and gobble up many short ones which would go as safe hits with many outfielders.

JACK MATTHEWS

At the bat, however, is where the Lowell centerfielder shines. He is a dangerous man for any opposing pitcher to attack when in a pinch and is almost certain to hit the ball. Matthews bats and throws right handed. He has played in 27 games, scored 24 runs, hits safely 46 times for a total of 17 and boasts an average of .324. Last year Matthews was the batting sensation of the Maine-New Brunswick league which he led with an average well over the 400 mark.

DECAYED TEETH CAUSE DISEASE
ROCHESTER, N. Y., July 5.—That decayed teeth may be the cause of inflammatory rheumatism and heart, kidney and other diseases is a conclusion reached by a research convention held last night in its report to the National Dental association which is in convention here. Investigation with rabbits has shown that when injections of the decay within a few days or upon being killed show heart muscles badly deteriorated, serious kidney troubles, joint disease and arteries broken down.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

D. F. KEITH'S THEATRE
Those who like occasionally to get a new point of view on an old-fashioned subject will enjoy "Horrors of War," the French photo-drama, which will be shown at the D. F. Keith Theatre, twice today. It is after the novel named "The Apprentices" by Gustave Geoffroy, the noted French novelist. A story of wonderfully sustained interest, it follows the fortunes of a young man who goes through it, and although the story is unusual, the theme is something all will make the deepest impression. It is all a cover-up, a disguise of war, although the scenes are not those of battlefields and fighting masses of men. A young man gradually goes down hill, disintegrates and dies as the result of a war all too terribly pointed out in this picture. "The Last of the Old Mill," "The Passing of Diana," and "The Heart-Song of a Plover," Miss Lillian, a Lowell girl, sings two numbers at each performance.

THE OWL THEATRE

Dave Robertson and Milton Stock, the two finds of the season, who were uncovered by McGraw, learned the gentle art of baseball on the same club. Both these youngsters were farmed out by the Giants and performed for the Mobile club of the Southern league all last season. Stock plays third base, while Robertson is an outfielder. In the accompanying out Robertson is shown in the front.

Dante's Flames the four-part feature at the Owl today and tomorrow. And yet the action is plausible and natural, mental aphasia is not new to medical science, but it is not the first time it has been seriously employed to produce sensational dramatic effects. That circumstances after cases is convincing upon you when you see this photo-play. It is a picture drama you will view with heart-pangs and amazement. Others on the program are "Lizzy, the Detective," the second of the new series, serial-comic but with a touch of drama now and then, "Love and Bullets," a Keystone comedy will be shown, also "Jim," a two-reel feature, specially added for the benefit of the patrons who like variety. Jack Dalton will sing.

THE ROYAL THEATRE
Again "The Perils of Pauline" will delight audiences at the Royal on Wednesday and Thursday, the last series, the right will be shown. A thrilling rescue of Pauline effected through her lover's skill is the principal scene. She is seen darting down a hill, while a big hunter, weighing about a ton, is descending swiftly upon her. She is terrified, serious kidney troubles, joint disease and arteries broken down. The whole action is projected right on the screen, and is a real thriller. There are other thrills in it, but this is the particularly strong one. The other pictures secured for these days, are all the latest and best subjects, comedies and dramas in good measure. Thursday, all receipts for the matinee will be turned in to the Mount relief fund. On Friday and Saturday, "The Adventures of Kathlyn" the next series will be shown as a specially added feature.

THEATRE VOYONS
Today will be the last chance to see the second installment of "The Perils of Pauline." This is without doubt the most wonderful series ever produced and should be seen every week. "The Elder Brother," a two-part feature featuring the wonderful actor, Francis X. Bushman, is one of the best pictures that has been shown and Mr. Bushman with his able assistants makes this an exceptionally good offering. Thursday's feature "Kiss Me Good-Night," a two-part picture, featuring Arthur Johnson and Lottie Briscoe, will be offered for your approval in connection with a very strong program.

RESERVE BOARD

Soon to Come Into Actual Existence—Warburg May Yet Accept

WASHINGTON, July 8.—With three members of the federal reserve board, Charles S. Hamlin, W. G. Harding and A. C. Miller, confirmed, the board must soon come into actual existence as the act creating it provides that members must take the oath and qualify within 15 days after notice of appointments.

These three active members of the board, together with the comptroller of the currency and the secretary of the treasury give the necessary five votes, out of the total of seven required to pass any measure through the board.

It is known, however, that these five prefer to wait if possible until the complete board is named before rushing through organization plans.

Several experts have been called upon to outline the steps necessary to create the federal reserve banks in a satisfactory and speedy manner. These reports are ready for the consideration of the new board as soon as it is convened.

The designation of one of the members of the board as governor and another as vice-governor will develop upon President Wilson.

Word from Paul M. Warburg, the New York banker, as to whether or not he would consent to allow his nomination to be a member of the federal reserve board to remain before the senate after his request that it be withdrawn was anxiously being awaited in administration circles today.

Pres. Wilson had urged Mr. Warburg to reconsider his decision.

IMPORTANT CONFERENCE

To Discuss Financial and Industrial Situation and Trust Program at White House

WASHINGTON, July 8.—An important conference for the discussion of the financial and industrial situation of the country as well as the administration's anti-trust program will be held at the White House today. President Wilson had an engagement to discuss these matters with a delegation of business men representing the Chicago Association of Commerce. The interview had been sought by the Chicagoans.

Tomorrow the president has an engagement with Henry Ford, the Detroit manufacturer, a committee of bankers from Illinois, and a delegation of the National Association of Supervisors of state banks who have been holding their annual convention at Atlantic City.

The president, it was stated, had requested the association to frame regulations by which the banking laws of various states would conform to the new regional bank act. The delegation from the association is expected to report the results of their efforts to the federal reserve board, here tomorrow and confer with the president later in the day.

In their interview asking for today's conference with the president, the Chicago business men stated definitely that they wished to discuss anti-trust legislation, features of which they oppose.

The president was prepared to listen to their arguments but it was believed that he hardly would consent to any important changes in the bills.

The Chicago delegation included representatives of the iron and hardware, grocery and packing business, druggists, the banking interests and lawyers.

NOT HURT BY NEW TARIFF

The United States Manufacturers Have Little Competition, Says Sec. Redfield

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Foreign manufacturers sent into the United States during the first eight months of the new tariff system just 8.5 per cent more of their finished product than they did under the old. This was pointed to last night by Secretary Redfield as ample demonstration that there was no ground for the fears of American factory owners that they would be driven from business by the democratic tariff.

Imports of foodstuffs showed a large percentage of increase in the eight months which ended with May, while foodstuffs exports fell off substantially. There was a relatively small reduction in the amount of completed manufactures exported.

"The figures," said the secretary, "show the result of the world-wide depression in commerce as modified by our own shortage of foodstuffs, arising from the inadequate crops of last year which condition is rapidly passing away. They indicate also that our competing power in manufacturing is well sustained because at a time when commercial rivals are eager to sell and unwilling to buy, the item of exports of fully finished manufactures is depressed relatively little and the number of imports of finished manufactures increases relatively little."
